College issue—state vs. the people?

Strong sentiment for formation of a local community college was voiced yesterday by a number of those attending a monthly prayer breakfast, held Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital and hosted by the First National Bank in Madison. Bill H. Terrell presided.

The local college plan includes a consortium with Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Dr. Bernard Warren, deputy secretary of the Illinois Junior College Board, said at the breakfast that community emphasis is being encouraged. He noted that newly-passed legislation may rename his employer the Illinois Community College Board.

But he avoided assurances that a proposed Southwestern Junior College in the Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts will be permitted by the state.

A staff report to be presented to the IJC Board July 20 lists seven potential alternatives and discusses the local proposal negatively despite traffic hazards and congestion and other problems expected if Quad-Cityans have to commute to Godfrey, Belleville or East St. Louis.

He said local facilities might be possible if this community is part of some other district, but conceded that this would be up to the out-of-town district board.

Proceeding the July 20 meeting, a dinner is planned for 6:30 p.m. next Monday at SIUE, with representation by schools here and in Edwardsville and Collinsville. Lewis and Clark College at Godfrey; Belleville Area College; SIUE; the IJC Board; the Illinois Board of Higher Education; and the junior college study committee of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

Detachment of Edwardsville from Lewis and Clark has been suggested by IJC staff members as one possibility. Whether the required election would complicate the Southwestern issue excessively is unknown.

Petitions for Southwestern were filed prior to a June 30 deadline, and there are several other deadlines between now and Aug. 1, 1974, when all portions of Illinois are to be within a junior college district.

Dr. Warren said the main basis for state opposition to the apparent wishes of the local public is the size of the proposed district.

The Quad-Cities meet assessment and population criteria in the law but the IJC prefers to limit any new district to larger areas.

The report prepared for the IJC's July 20 meeting follows: STAFF RECOMMENDATION: It is recommended that the Illinois Junior College Board defer action on the petition for a new junior college district in the Tri-City Region (Granite City, Madison and Venice) pending IJC staff meetings with Tri-City officials on the determination of feasibility for annexation of this territory to an existing district, with a report and recommendation to be made at the September IJC meeting.

STAFF REPORT: We have received a petition concerning more than 500 signatures required by law for the organization of a new junior college district in the Tri-City Region (Granite City, Madison, and Venice) in Madison County. Last December, the IJC staff presented a preliminary report on the junior college study for southwestern Madison County with the recommendation that officials in the area should explore annexation to Lewis and Clark Community College with possible use of resources at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

This staff recommendation was made because the proposed junior college district would have a relatively low assessed valuation, low population and low student enrollment for a viable junior college district offering comprehensive educational programs.

Since the December action, one of the communities in the proposed junior college district (Collinsville) has withdrawn, and the Board of Education of Collinsville has submitted a preferential resolution to be annexed to Belleville Area College, District No. 322.

However, the remaining three communities decided to proceed with a petition for a new junior college district, received on June 26, 1973.

The proposed new district is even smaller and less likely to be viable than the one proposed last December on which your staff raised serious questions.

The new district would have a very low assessed valuation—approximately $27.7 million—a low population base, and a projected full-time student enrollment of probably less than 1,000.

Furthermore, there are three community college campuses within a comparatively short distance of students from the Tri-City Area (Lewis and Clark in Godfrey, State Community College in East St. Louis, and Belleville Area College in Belleville).

Legislation (SB 951) passed by the Illinois General Assembly to require consideration of the availability of existing facilities in the proposed junior college district and was specifically initiated because of the interest of Granite City citizens in utilizing facilities at SIUE-Edwardsville.

These SIUE facilities are currently in Lewis and Clark Community College, District No. 336.

We have met on several occasions with Granite City officials. Dr. Warren is to meet with them at breakfast July 11. Both Dr. Warren and I are scheduled to meet with Tri-City, Collinsville, Edwardsville, Belleville, Lewis and Clark, Southern Illinois University and Illinois Board of Higher Education.

Hostage freed; 2 arrests in holdup

A long-sought fugitive and an associate were arrested in a chase-and-search mission in Granite City last night following an armed robbery at 10:40 a.m. Wednesday at the A&P Market at the American Village Shopping center.

The hostage was released unharmed in South St. Louis and returned to his home an hour and a half later, police reported.

Arrested in Springfield by police there Wednesday evening was Charles M. Wheeler, about 38, alias Donald Bodine, for whom fugitive warrants had been obtained by Granite City and St. Louis police.

Taken into custody at Pontoon Road and North Street shortly after the robbery was Donald Ingram, 17, of Springfield. He was held today on a charge of armed robbery.

Granite City police were alerted that an armed robbery was in progress.

A man had entered the store through the front door, approached a clerk and asked to talk to the manager. The clerk went to the rear of the store to inform the manager, Wayne Inlow, that he had a visitor.

As the manager walked near the visitor, the robber drew a snub-nosed revolver from his waistband and announced a holdup.

The robber forced Inlow to the office, where money was taken from safes, and the two then went to the front of the store where money was taken from four cash registers.

The amount of money, mostly in change, was unreported by A&P officials but was much less than the amount taken in a holdup of the same store on May 8, when more than $5,000 was obtained. The money taken yesterday was recovered.

Wheeler was charged in an armed robbery warrant in the May 8 case.

Yesterday's robber entered a 1966 red auto and headed north on Nameoki Road, the car was driven by another man.

Police units were converging on the scene, and the getaway car left at a high rate of speed in front of a squad car driven by Granite City Police Lt. Everett Kelly, who took up the chase. A state trooper who arrived in the area joined the chase.

Lt. Kelly told the Press-Record the red auto turned right onto Pontoon Road and spun out of control at North Street. A boy on a bicycle told a reporter the car hit a tree and had a flat tire and damage to the rear end.

Wheeler was seen running

Omit some Pontoon hearings on zoning

Changes to the zoning ordinance of Pontoon Beach which were approved and implemented July 7 by the Village Board drew comment Tuesday from Nameoki Township Supervisor Louis Whelan. He said village and township residents have been deprived of the right to public hearings on proposed zoning designations involving annexation.

The village board Saturday voted to allow newly annexed property into the village under any of the eight present village zoning categories.

Formerly, property annexed was automatically entered as R-1 (residential), and requested zoning changes had to be investigated by the village board of zoning appeals through procedures which include public hearings.

Changes of zoning could be made by the village board only after a recommendation had been made by the zoning appeals board. The village board could then comply with the recommendation or overrule the zoning group and assign any village zoning classification.

The ordinance amendment eliminates the zoning board's role concerning newly annexed property.

Procedure remains the same for zoning changes on property already within the village limits. Donald Gardner, chairman of the zoning board, declined to comment this week until a zoning meeting can be called.

Immediately after the special meeting to amend the zoning ordinance, the Village Board held a second meeting to annex several parcels of land, including a 22-acre parcel annexed as residential and granted a special use permit for construction of modular homes.

Also approved at the second hearing was B-2 zoning for a business development by Mayor Floyd David Moss and Carl Hackney, who is a former village trustee and now a zoning appeals member and chairman of the village's Businessman's Information Center.

The Route 162 project immediately west of Highway 111 consists of a $350,000 medical building with nine offices on five acres south of 162 and a paint store, office supply business and other small firms on four acres north of 162.

Hackney objected to the appeals board's procedure earlier approving only part of the five-acre plan, not acting on the four-acre site and not authorizing any B-2; it listed the medical building for a special use permit which would have expired if ownership changed.

It was contended that the appeals unit should have forwarded the B-2 nine-acre request to the village board with a recommendation to deny, alter or approve.

Hackney abstained and said the other members should have taken one of the three courses he listed. He added that no grounds were cited by anyone for disapproval, and no objectors appeared.

Moss stepped down as mayor for Saturday's vote, naming Trustee Loren Madison as mayor pro-tem during the vote. The original Moss-Hackney request then was approved unanimously.

Property annexed at the meeting included 33.7 acres owned by Darrell and Dena Jeane Layman, including the 22-acre modular home area and 11.7 acres of B-2 zoned property.

Also annexed were a 5.7-acre tract owned by Gilbert and Wilma Gilliland, also entered as B-2, and three smaller parcels of B-2 land owned by Ralph and Gaynor Harris. All are located along Route 111 southeast of the old village line.

The zoning assignments were determined by the Village Board without a recommendation from the zoning board.

Moss said Jerry Henderson, zoning inspector, had received plans of the proposed annexations six weeks before the vote but had failed to take ac-

Lewis hurt in crash on 270

Michael Lewis, 25, of 139 Briarwood Lane, was in poor condition today in the intensive care unit of St. Elizabeth Hospital after his auto was one of seven involved in a series of crashes on Interstate 270 by the Chain of Rocks Canal Bridge yesterday afternoon.

Two other drivers were injured.

A truck, driven by Levi Lewis, St. Louis, carrying a load of salvaged autos, had a fire in one of the autos and the driver pulled to the edge of the eastbound lanes at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday. A motorist in the westbound lanes, David Hatten, 26, of Alton, slowed his car to park in the median and to give assistance and reportedly was struck from the rear by the auto of Michael Lewis.

Andy Economy of Madison, a tow truck driver, was the first person on the scene and administered first-aid to Lewis on the seat of the car.

"I am grateful for a trauma course I took at St. Elizabeth Hospital," Economy said, adding, "I knew just what to do."

He said Lewis suffered many facial cuts where his head struck the windshield. Economy administered com-pacts to slow the bleeding and took precautions against Lewis going into shock.

He was taken by ambulance to the hospital, where he was admitted to intensive care with cuts to his forehead, upper lip and left cheek and other head injuries.

Hatten suffered minor injuries.

The fire in the truck was extinguished by Mitchell firemen while other Mitchell volunteers helped aid Lewis.

Just as firemen and wreckers completed the clean-up efforts on Interstate 270, five other cars were involved in an accident nearby.

All five were eastbound when the chain-reaction mishap occurred. Leslie Brown, 46, of Hartford, driver of one of the cars, was injured and was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a cut to his lower lip.

Drivers not hurt were Francis Bennett, 2644 Edwards St., Francis Budde, Abeline, Kan., and Floyd Hill, Freeburg. The driver believed to have caused the accident left without giving his name.

I-25 HEARING TONIGHT

Whether to place the route of Interstate 25 between Highway 111 and 127 east of Highway 159 at the point it crosses Interstate 270 is among the topics to be considered at a public hearing at 7:30 tonight in the East St. Louis High School auditorium.

Mr. Hodge had been in ill health for the past two years causing his retirement from business. He was admitted at the hospital Tuesday after becoming seriously ill at home.

Born in Elwood, Ind., Mr. Hodge came to the area as a young boy and attended local schools. He was graduate in May 1919 from Granite City High School.

Madison to pave two more streets

An expenditure of approximately $17,000 to finance the resurfacing of West Second and West Third streets in West Madison was approved by the Madison City Council in regular meeting Tuesday night.

The action followed a report by the Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab engineering firm, the city's consulting engineers, recommending the project. The cost will be met out of the city's motor fuel tax fund.

West Second and West Third streets will be blacktopped under the plan from Bissell Street to W. Madison Street. Mayor Mike Sasyk warned council members that the city may expect growing financial problems in the near future because of decreased revenue and mounting operational costs and suggested this factor be considered in the city's new 1973-74 budget.

He said copies of the budget will be distributed at all

Strike mediation due Monday

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

A strike of 170 members of United Steelworkers of America Local 6496 against N.L. (National Lead) Industries, Inc., at the Hoyt Plant, 16th Street and Cleveland Boulevard, continued today as representatives of both sides indicated firm stances against compromise.

The union struck when its contract expired Monday, but company operations have continued unimpeded, manned by about 80 salaried and supervisory personnel, according to Rudolph Sabatino, region manager for N.L. Industries.

The company and union have not met since the weekend when a tentative company proposal was rejected by the union negotiators.

"We made our best offer. Unfortunately, they chose not to accept it and went on strike. There is no more money there, not now nor two weeks from now, nor ever. They know that. We told the committee that and we hope they conveyed that to the membership." John Love, employee relations manager who conducted the negotiations for the company, commented Tuesday.

Strikers picketing in front of the company offices argued that the increases offered in the tentative contract are the same as those offered three years ago.

The company agreed the basic wage increase, 73 cents per hour for the three-year period, was the same as last year, but contended other fringe benefits brought the total package increase to 98 cents per hour for the three-year period of the contract.

The union base wage under the old contract was $3.83 plus $1.70 in fringe benefits. In the three-year contract which began in 1970 and expired at 12:01 a.m. Monday the workers received 30 cents additional wages in the first year, 25 in the second and 18 the third, a total of 73 cents.

The new contract proposes 22 cents the first year, 25 the second and 26 the third, also totaling 73 cents.

Company officials explained that in addition to the wage and fringe benefits increases, saving shift workers would receive an additional 30 cents in the three years, truck operators would "harass" workers, one said, while leaving them no rebuttal.

Love and Sabatino said a cost of living provision would leave the company unable to make long-term financial decisions "because we would have no idea of what we would be paying in wages next year and the following year."

"There is no cost of living provision and there will not be. Our wage increases are our cost of living increases," Love said and contended that the company gave employees a 23 per cent increase during the past three years while the cost of living rose 11.3 per cent.

Addressing himself to the no-strike clause is essential and without it there is no contract. "This is an item we are never going to change," he said, adding that provisions for mandatory arbitration for grievances give the employees a means for rebuttal.

"The trend of the national Steelworkers union this year has been for no-strike contracts. I can not see why this local wants to have a strike clause," Love said.

"This is the best package we have ever offered," he concluded. The strikers disagreed, contending it is no better than the contract three years ago.

Puppy adoption clinic Saturday

Ten lively puppies of mixed breeds and two fully grown dogs, one a registered Shetland, will be offered for adoption Saturday by the Quad-Cities Association for Protection of Animals (APA) at Aqua Land, 1233 Nineteenth St.

APA members will be at the puppy adoption center from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

"Stars" of the project will be an AKC registered Shetland, a 2-year-old male dog, and a parti-color female. Both animals are excellent with children, an APA official said.

from the auto by Lt. Kelly. The officer asked the state trooper to take charge of the driver and then ran after Wheeler.

Wheeler allegedly entered Nameki Grade School, went through the building and jumped out of a window, running across a Pontoon Road between houses.

Lt. Kelly withheld fire because of children on the school playground and in the building.

Police Chief Ronald Veizer said he instituted an immediate house-to-house search, and witnesses reported that a red-haired man attempted to force his way into their auto.

Being unsuccessful, the man went across the street where a motorist was leaving his auto, police said. The driver, a Granite City man who was in the auto, was forced back into the car and ordered to leave.

The victim's auto headed north on Route 203. About 1 1/2 hours later, he called police from his home to report that he had been released unharmed in South St. Louis and ordered by the kidnapper to drive back to Illinois.

Also participating in the search were units from the state police and the secretary of state's office, which had a task force working on Highway 3 at the time, in addition to forces from the Madison County sheriff's department and Madison and Venice police.

Springfield police were notified and found Wheeler at Ingram's home address.

Also taken into custody with Wheeler was Connie Ingram, sister of Ronald Ingram. She formerly resided at 2156 Washington Ave., where last February police conducted a raid and arrested an escapee from the St. Louis City Jail.

She was wanted on a fugitive warrant for jumping a bail bond in that case.

Springfield police also wanted Wheeler on armed robbery charges and for other crimes, and informed Granite City police that Wheeler was identified in a lineup last night and was to appear before witnesses in another lineup today.

It was reported that Wheeler had been working in Springfield on a garbage truck under the name of Mike Brockley.

Burton-Keniry ceremony in Iowa

An out-of-town wedding of interest to local residents was that of Miss Rita Keniry, daughter of Leo F. Keniry, of Eldora, Iowa, and Jerry Burton, 1205 Linwood Blvd., Kansas City, Mo., formerly of Granite City. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Burton, reside at 2949 Madison Ave.

St. Mary's Catholic Church in Tulsa was the scene of the June 2 wedding. The Rev. W. W. Schmidt officiated at the 2 o'clock afternoon ceremony before an altar adorned with ferns and candles.

"We've Only Just Begun," "Sound of Music," "Our Father" and "Come Holy Ghost" were among the musical selections presented.

The bride wore a gown of sheer organza and Chantilly lace made with softly ruffled lace at the V neckline and a "tail" band of lace ruffles cuffing the long fitted sheer sleeves.

The skirt traced an A-line silhouette and the gown was enhanced with a detachable chapel train. A petal shaped tiara held in place the elbow-length silk illusion veil and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white roses and white carnations festooned with streamers.

Mrs. Marlene Menteer, mother of honor, Mrs. Dolores Chaslin, Mrs. Joan Gehrke and Carolyn Knott, bridesmaids, all sisters of the bride, were the attendants.

Miss Jackie Keniry and Kim Knott, nieces of the bride, served as flower girls, with Jerry Dale Morris, a nephew of the groom, as ring bearer.

The honor attendants and bridesmaids wore A-line floor-length gowns fashioned of pink and white polyester knit. Headbands matched their dresses and each carried a long stemmed mum.

Her husband, a graduate of Granite City High School, works at Black and Decker Power Tools Co., in Kansas City.

Kathleen Willis is married

Burning tapers in tall candleholders at the altar illuminated the sanctuary for the wedding on June 23 at the Church of Christ, 2130 Clark Ave., of Miss Kathleen Willis of Breese, Ill., and Steve C. Williams of Tulsa, Ill.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kenison, 2806 Edwards St. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Williams of Rural Route Two, Tulsa.

The Rev. William Willard performed the double ring ceremony at 6:30 in the evening. Soloists were Patti Lynn Stegelmeyer, Carol Wilson, Ronald Stegelmeyer and Mark Novich, who sang "The Wedding Prayer," "We've Only Just Begun" and "One Love."

For her wedding, the former Miss Willis selected a floor-length gown of white organza. Venise lace motifs, etched with seed pearls, were applied on the fitted bodice, edged the neckline, and accented the sleeves, made with a flared cuff.

Matching trim marked the crescent waistline and bordered the chapel-length train. A headpiece created of Venise lace clusters, embellished with tiny seed pearls, secured the bouffant hair. She carried a white bride topped with a white and violet. The bride, Mrs. Lynn Johnson, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She chose a flopped mint green shift gown, formal-length, fashioned in Empire style. A pink strawberry trim enhanced the frock and a pink satin ribbon defined the high rise waist.

Tiny ruffles trimmed the neckline, leg-of-mutton sleeves and the bodice. She wore a pink wide brim hat and carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations with baby breath.

Rebekah Elayne Wilson, the flower girl, and Marc Ralph Rousseau, ringbearer, are both cousins of the bride. She was dressed in a full-length gown similar in style to the honor attendants' dress and carried a bouquet of carnations.

Andy Williams, brother of the groom, served as best man. Seated the guests were Robert Johnson, a brother-in-law of the bride, and Larry and Ken Kenison, brothers of the bride. After the ceremony guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Nameoki Recreation Center. A rehearsal dinner was served at the Grand Cafe. The bride is a graduate of Eastern Illinois University, is a learning disabilities teacher. She is employed at an elementary school in St. Rose, Ill. Her husband, also a graduate of Eastern Illinois University, teaches science at St. Rose Grade School. They will reside in St. Rose, following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination.

Kiwanis boat races Sunday at lake

A special attraction at the annual Kiwanis Boat Races Sunday at Horseshoe Lake will be the class "M" hydro.

The division is in sharp contrast to the 100 miles per hour variety presented for the majority of the day, as speed potential is around 40 mph. However, the average class "M" driver is only 10.

The local class "M" favorite is Timmy Seebold, 9, who is continuing the boat racing tradition established by his grandfather and father, Bill Seebold Sr. and Jr.

Some other "M" drivers entered are Terry Chance, 10, and Paul Schlichter, 11, St. Louis. Their father, Tim Chance, competes at a somewhat higher speed in "C" and "D" hydro. The boys are in their second year of competition, while the older member of the family has been racing for the past 18 years and won the Minnesota state championship before moving to St. Louis.

Another "M" driver is Scott Hall, 12, of Liberty, Mo., who will make his racing debut at the event.

Horseshoe Lake. His father, Rex Hall, defending American Outboard Federation champion, will run in the "C" and "D" classes.

Another early entry in Class "M" is Mike Moore of Kansas City, who will drive a rig owned by "C" and "D" driver Bill Van Steenwyk, also from Kansas City. Van Steenwyk has one of the fastest "C" class outboards in the nation.

There should be about a half dozen youngsters vying for the first-place trophy.

Paul Bogosian, boat racing ace from Granite City also is entered in the regatta. Bogosian, 32, has been competing in outboard races for 30 years. Last season he finished runner-up at the National "C" hydro. The boys are in their second year of competition, while the older member of the family has been racing for the past 18 years and won the Minnesota state championship before moving to St. Louis.

Another "M" driver is Scott Hall, 12, of Liberty, Mo., who will make his racing debut at the event.

registrants are Stan Leaven-dusky, Kansas City, Kan., world champion in Class C Service; Clyde Queen, Chicago, a top contender in A and B classes; Barry Wilson, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, C and D driver; Ernie LaRose, St. Louis, veteran C service competitor; and John Dorch-Sr. and John Dorch-Jr. of St. Louis, who owns ultra-fast A and B class equipment.

Bill Seebold Sr., an ex-boat racer and chairman of the event, said that proceeds of the races will be used by the Granite City Kiwanis Clubs to fund worthy projects. He encouraged area residents to attend the action-packed professional boat race, which is the only appearance this year in this section of the country for this type of racing boats.

Class "M" is the first of 10 heats will kick-off the show at 1 p.m. The event is sanctioned by the American Power Boat Association and presented by Outboard-Central Professional Racing Association.

St. Mary's Boosters will play a make-up game at Highland-Pierson at 8 p.m., Friday and then play at 2 p.m., Sunday at Roxana in Illinois Inter-City Baseball League action. Mercer has an open date.

"How we do on the base paths is usually how the game goes," Greer said. To win we got to run." Leading the club with

Seale wins cycle race here

Charles Seale of Lantana, Fla., took top honors at the Tri-City Speedway's weekly motorcycle race Tuesday night by taking the lead in the final lap of the feature race and going on to victory.

Seale and Robert E. Lee of Fort Worth, Tex., were second and third, respectively, behind Mike Gerald of Baton Rouge, La., in the first nine laps of the 10-lap event, but with only three turns remaining, Gerald made a mistake. His motorcycle went wide in the second turn, allowing both Seale and Lee to Power their way past him. Gerald finished third.

A side-by-side race in the trophy dash for the fastest qualifiers also highlighted the program as Gary Cape of St. David, Ill., and Lee remained deadlocked the first three laps of the four-lap event. Again the final lap made the difference as Lee passed on the back stretch and was victorious. Mike Johnson of Flint, Mich., was the fastest qualifier with a quarter-mile lap in 15.92 seconds. Lee was only one hundredth of a second behind at 15.88 for second and Al Steele of Alton trailed at 15.94.

Heat winners were Johnson, Lee, Anthony Martin of Topeka, Kan., Cape, Gerald and Jack Huether of Granite City. Semi-feature races were captured by Lee, Gerald and Paul Pressagore of Tecumseh, Kan.

Track standouts join Cougars

Two standout track performers, Steve Vida of Edwardsville and Virgil Johnson of East St. Louis, have signed letters of intent to enroll this fall at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. Jack Whitted, SIUE varsity coach, has announced.

Vida, who will be a freshman, starred in the 100, 220 and 440 dashes at Edwardsville High School.

Johnson, a top-flight discus and javelin thrower the past two seasons as a member of the Forest Park Community College team in St. Louis, graduated from Lincoln High School, East St. Louis. He is a big man, standing 6-4 and weighing 265 pounds.

The Cougar track and field team, which has never had a losing season in the three years coached by Whitted, posted a 9-2 record this year, winning the Wayne State University Relays in Detroit and finishing third at the Elmhurst College Relays.

Letter of intent by Indiana star

Coach Jim Dudley may have solved the problem of finding a replacement at the point guard position on the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville basketball team caused by the June graduation of the Cougars' brilliant Tony Johnson.

For two seasons, Johnson led the Cougars in scoring and assists as well as serving as the SIUE floor general.

Dudley has announced that Tom Butler of Northern Indiana by way of the University of Corpus Christi in Texas has signed a letter of intent to enroll at SIUE this fall. The Texas school, where Butler played on the varsity for two years, has given up intercollegiate sports, which permits the transfer without loss of eligibility.

Butler will join Kevin "Toots" Kellerman, who played his prep basketball at Treviso Mater Dei High School, as a candidate to make the Cougar team.

Kellerman was the leading scorer at Corpus Christi.

Says Dudley: "Butler is an outstanding ball handler and passer. He's able to penetrate extremely well and can spot the open man almost as good as Johnson. Along with Kellerman, Butler should help us."

Butler played his prep basketball at Edison High School in Gary, Ind., where he averaged 27 points a game. A left-hander like Johnson, he holds the single season high for assists at Edison and is the school's all-time assist leader. He was picked for three consecutive years on the Northern Indiana All-Conference team.

In addition to his basketball skills, Butler is also a better than average baseball player, playing either first base or pitching.

Maxvill back in action as Pirate

Veteran shortstop Dal Maxvill of Granite City has been picked up on waivers by the Pittsburgh Pirates from the Oakland Athletics, it was announced Monday.

Maxvill will be the regular starting shortstop, according to Pirate Manager Bill Virden who has experimented with three other players at the position.

The Pirates paid the waiver price of $20,000 and picked up Maxvill's contract calling for a salary estimated at $50,000. Two other major league teams had expressed an interest in acquiring the services of the outstanding defensive shortstop.

Maxvill, 34, played with the St. Louis Cardinals 10 years before being traded to Oakland last year. He has been in four World Series, including the one last year.

Tennis Duo Wins

Jim Ettimoff of Granite City and Jay Leskera of Collinsville maintained their No. 1 seed spot with another victory in the MacIair Tennis Tournament held during the weekend at Edwardsville High School.

Ettimoff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vasil Ettimoff, 2800 Michigan Ave., and Leskera is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leskera of Collinsville.

Ettimoff took second place in the 12-and-under singles tournament by losing to John DeMars of East St. Louis by 6-4 and 7-5 in the finals.

Mike Papes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Papes, 263 Center St., lost in the semi-finals of the 14-and-under singles division to the No. 1 seed Scott Perkins of O'Fallon.

Brown named to Hall of Fame

Harold Brown, Granite City Park District superintendent, will be presented an Amateur Softball Association Hall of Fame plaque by Charles McCord, state ASA commissioner, in ceremonies here on Aug. 2.

The ceremonies will be held during the women's slow pitch state tournament.

McCord referred to Brown as "one of the better known sports figures in the state. He has been a commissioner for ASA for more than 35 years and has done an outstanding job in directing many of our state tournaments as well as hundreds of local tournaments.

"It was the opinion of the Illinois Hall of Fame Committee that Brown was not only a great softball personality but had assisted the youth of the state in many sports."

Nameoki-Pontoon All Stars win district championship

The Nameoki-Pontoon Senior Baseball League All-Stars advanced to the Sectional All-Star League Tournament at La Salle-Peru by defeating the Lawrenceville All-Stars 7-3 in Lawrenceville Tuesday for the district championship.

Nameoki-Pontoon collected eight hits and had four errors and Lawrenceville had seven hits and one error.

Stars of the game were Daris Davis and Tim Leumann of the Nameoki-Pontoon squad.

Davis, the winning pitcher, struck out seven batters, several in key situations, and retired 11 Lawrenceville batters in a row at one stage of the game.

Leumann was cited for his hustling play at second base.

In the top half of the first inning, Lawrenceville got off to a 2-0 lead on two singles and three errors, with Nameoki-Pontoon coming back with the bottom half of the inning with one run on singles by Tim Leumann, Jim Simpson and Larry York, with Leumann scoring on a wild pitch.

In the bottom half of the sixth inning, down 3-2, the Nameoki-Pontoon All-Stars put together a five-run rally. Davis led off with a double off of the left field fence 325 feet down the line.

After a walk by Larry York, Bob Chinn hit a perfect bunt down the third base line to load the bases.

After Gary York hit into a fielder's choice, forcing Davis at home, Gary Meyer slammed a clutch single to score two runs. Then Leumann reached first and Gary York

He also reported on the Granite City secondary sewage treatment plant, saying plans are complete and "now it is a matter of selling bonds."

Electors okay fund transfer

The transfer of $83,000 of federal revenue sharing funds into township accounts was approved by the electors of Nameki Township during a special town meeting Monday night.

Transferred were $33,000 into the town fund, $17,200 into the road and bridge fund, $32,900 into the permanent hard road fund and $20,000 into a special bridge fund to pay a portion of the township indebtedness for a new bridge in State Park Place.

Improvements planned using the funds include an addition to the town hall, a larger dog holding pound, creation of a park fund and an environmental cleanup project which will include trash and limb pickup and street and gutter cleaning.

The electors voted 18-0 in favor of all transfers. Norman Hesler was elected moderator for the meeting.

The Town Board of Auditors then met in regular session and discussed plans for a minibike trail along the Illinois Terminal Railroad abandoned right-of-way between Granite City and Edwardsville.

A telegram from State's Attorney Nicholas Byron to the chief engineer of the railroad was read in which Byron requested that the railroad renew its offer for lease of the right-of-way.

The railroad had offered the approximately 10 mile long route to the county for 10 years at $100 per mile with an option to renew the lease at the end of the 10 year period.

A letter from Louis Whitsell, Nameki Township supervisor, to Madison County Sheriff John Maeras was read in which Whitsell asked if the sheriff's department has a telephone

McKendree appoints director of admissions

David H. Wilkey has been named director of admissions at McKendree College in Lebanon. The appointment was announced by Raymond F. Devery, vice-president for development and college relations. Wilkey will report to Devery.

Wilkey is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Longwell of Nashville. Dr. Longwell is Washington County coroner. Wilkey graduated from McKendree in June, 1969, and taught for a year at McClellan Grade School, Mount Vernon, before joining the admissions staff at McKendree in 1970.

"The Admissions Office is a vital part of the private college," Devery said. "Wilkey has shown that he has the qualities we need to head this office and to help McKendree grow through recruiting highly qualified students." While other colleges are showing declines in enrollment, McKendree, oldest college in Illinois, has been increasing. Miss Jessie "Portkey" Watts, 17, of 1211 Logan St., Venice, and Jake Edward Ford, 21, of 201 Weaver St., Venice, were arrested by Venice police on charges stemming from an alleged beating and robbery of two women in Venice early this week.

Miss Watts is charged with aggravated battery and robbery and Ford faces charges of robbery, aggravated battery, battery and attempted robbery. Phillip Taylor and Geneva Brooks of 3215 Madison Ave., said three young men and a young woman asked them for a ride in their car.

After they had driven around Venice and Kerr Island, the riders tried to take a pocketbook, it was alleged. Miss Brooks was struck on the head with a soft drink can which caused a cut to her forehead.

An attempt to steal from the other woman also was reported. Miss Brooks' wallet containing $2 was reported as missing. In addition to the two arrests, Venice police questioned two juveniles, but no other charges were filed.

Doescher-Jensen ceremony

St. John United Church of Christ, 2801 N. Main St., was the scene of the July 7 wedding of Miss Laura A. Jensen, 24, of Center St., Lebanon, Ill., who became the bride of Cliff C. Doescher, 183 N. Alton St., Lebanon.

Miss Jensen is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hans A. Jensen, 24, E. Chain of Rocks Road. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Stella Doescher, resides in Watervliet, N.Y.

Mrs. Paul Surber, soloist, sang "We've Only Just Begun" and "Let It Be," accompanied by Steve Sams, organist, who also played "Surrender, Sweet."

The Rev. Paul Surber, pastor, officiated at the 11 a.m. ceremony as the couple exchanged wedding promises before an altar decorated with summer blossoms, fern and beaded candles.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Jensen chose a gown of bridal satin fashioned in Empire style with long fitted sleeves banded at the wrist with Venice lace.

Delicate lace created a bit effect on the bodice and edged the stand-up collar. The skirt was softly gathered and a large flat bow added interest at the back waistline.

In her hair she wore a garland of fresh flowers and she carried a cascade of yellow roses, yellow and white pom poms, daisies and baby breath.

The maid of honor, Miss Jacqueline Jensen, a sister of the bride, selected a full-length gown of lemon yellow silk and held a nosegay of white and yellow pom poms and daisies.

William Donaldson served the groom as best man. The ushers were Alan Jensen, the bride, brother, and Robert DeAngelo.

Immediately following the service, the newly weds greeted relatives and friends at a reception at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn.

reception at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. Miss Sara Roman, a cousin of the bride, presided over the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Jensen appeared in a blue and white knit dress with a matching jacket. The groom's mother chose a yellow and white frock and hairpinning accessories. Both wore white

Retirement benefit test liberalized this year

By FRANK CORRICK
Copy News Service

Q. They tell me that the new Social Security retirement test is much more liberal than the old rule. Just what is the difference? — Mr. C.R.O.

A. Last year the basic amount a person could earn and still draw all of his Social Security checks was $1,000. Beginning with 1973 the basic amount is raised to $2,100. For earnings over $2,100, a person would lose $1 for every $2 above $2,100.

The difference can best be illustrated by an example. Let's take a man entitled to a monthly Social Security benefit of $250 ($3,000 per year) who earns $5,000.

Under the 1972 rules he would have received $200 in Social Security benefits. Under the 1973 rules, he would realize $1,350 in Social Security benefits.

Q. I became disabled at age 63 and I went to the Social Security office to file for disability benefits. They said something about a waiting period and asked me if I wanted to file for reduced benefits. I said "no," but I'm still confused about the whole thing. — Mr. D.T.B.

A. Anyone filing for disability benefits cannot receive benefits until the sixth full month of disability (for example, if someone becomes disabled on Jan. 15, his disability benefits would be payable beginning with July). The period from January to July is referred to as a waiting period.

If a person is over 62 when he becomes disabled, he may elect to receive reduced retirement benefits during his waiting period. A full explanation of the amounts involved is given to the individual and then he must elect to receive or not to receive the reduced benefits. For a more detailed explanation, call your Social Security office.

Q. I am 62 and have been in two mutual funds for about 10 years, having made lump sum investments whenever I have had the money and always when the cost was high, it seems. I feel I have made a poor investment as I have $1,000 in the funds.

We have presently about the same in federal saving certificates but feel that the interest on these doesn't even keep up with the spiraling cost much less a fair investment. My wife and I would like to sell the funds and invest into something more promising that will be of assistance to us in retirement. Any recommendation will be appreciated. — H.B.

A. To provide you with the practical and realistic guidance you are entitled to, please visit or write your nearest bank's trust department. They will be pleased to advise you of their services without any obligations.

Q. I have heard that the cost of providing Medicare and other health benefits to people over 65 is pretty high. Do you have any statistics on this? — Mrs. S.C.B.

A. In fiscal year 1972 the nation spent $71.9 billion for personal health care — 16 per cent for the young, 57 per cent for those 19 to 64 and 27 per cent for age 65 and over. However, the average medical care bill for an aged person reached nearly $1,000 compared with $358 for the 19 to 64 group and $147 for a youth.

ARREST JUVENILES

Two Venice juveniles were caught by police and three escaped after breaking into the boat house of Clarence Hart along the Mississippi River near Venice. The boys allegedly pulled the plywood from the north window, entered and threw corn meal and sugar on the floor inside. Two boats were untied and one was lost.

CHARGE ROBBERY

James Henderson, 18, of 841 Salveter St., Venice, was arrested at Klein Street and Broadway in Venice at 10 a.m. Tuesday on an East St. Louis warrant charging armed robbery. He allegedly was among those involved in the robbery of a Yellow Cab Co. driver, Roy E. Bellman of Granite City, in East St. Louis last month, police reported.

Gasoline shortage may help Illinois tourism

Copley News Service
Springfield — "Just outside of Chicago, there's a place called Illinois" — that's the jingle used in the ad campaign just completed by the Illinois Division of Tourism.

But the job of selling Illinois to prospective tourists is never really completed. Just ask Robert Sullivan, director of the division. He'll tell you about it.

Granite City Press-Record

Keel in church post

Harlon D. Keel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlon B. Keel, 2544 Stratford Lane, has assumed the duties of assistant pastor to the Rev. Claude Black at the First Assembly of God Church in Murphysboro.

Keel, who was licensed with the Illinois District Assemblies of God in April, is a 1972 graduate of Granite City High School.

He has been preaching since his sophomore year in high school and has spent the past year conducting evangelistic services in several states, including Illinois, Missouri, Mississippi, Alabama, Arkansas and Louisiana.

He has been pianist for several gospel singing quartets and is a member of the church choir at Tri-City Park Tabernacle Assembly of God. He also and he tells his story well. "Our job is to promote tourism within the state," explained Sullivan. "And we provide technical advice as well as inspiration to those concerned with tourism."

Sullivan lists as his number one priority the manning of information centers located on interstates throughout the state. Illinois is the only state in the Midwest with unstaffed centers, according to the director, and because of lack of funds, custodians merely stock the centers with printed information.

At present there are four sets of information centers at ports of entry to Illinois; by 1977 this number will increase to 12.

Because the state is short on large national attractions, Sullivan hopes to make Illinois the "festival capital of the U. S."

And she's well on her way with such established annual events as the wedding of the Wine and Cheese at Nauvoo, Lilac Festival at Lombard, Petunia Festival at Dixon, Beer Festival in Pope County, Popcorn Festival in Ridgeway, Rail-splitting Festival in Lincoln, Crafts Festival in Clayville and Carillon Festival in Springfield.

Sullivan feels that with the growing interest in rural crafts, Illinois might be able to attract both in-state and out-of-state tourists to these festivals and at the same time benefit local interests.

"We are currently producing films on the festivals with the Illinois Information Service," said Sullivan. "And we're seeing a lot done in this field right now."

The division also provides information to prospective tourists. During May, 1969 requests for information were filled for those preparing for the June, July and August peak tourist season.

The largest requests are for the Illinois Directory of Campgrounds, 36 Scenic Tours and the Illinois Calendar of Events. Chicago and the Lincoln shrines appear to be the most popular Illinois attractions, according to Sullivan. The Lincoln shrines are primarily found in Sangamon, Macon and Menard counties.

In addition, Rend, Shelbyville and Carlisle lakes are growing in popularity.

Just how many tourists the state hosts each year is a difficult figure to determine because it is hard to distinguish between a tourist whose destination is Illinois and a traveler who is just passing through Illinois enroute to another destination.

However, based on in-house surveys conducted by the division with people who have answered an ad for information, Sullivan said that during the past five years, tourists have increased their stay from two to seven days.

This increase represents an additional $25 per day spent in Illinois' communities.

According to a 1970 survey, $2,800,000 was spent in Illinois by tourists.

Just how will the predicted gasoline shortage affect these figures this vacation season? Sullivan thinks it may help, not hinder the business.

FIND STOLEN CAR
Venice police found an abandoned auto at 10 a.m. Sunday in the 1200 block of Logan Street in Venice. The car had two flat tires and the ignition lock was damaged. A statewide check of reported auto thefts revealed the car had been stolen from Milford Webster of Springfield, Ill. in Springfield.

AIR COOLER STOLEN
An air conditioner valued at $399 was stolen from the vacant mobile home of Jack Patrick at 4150 Division St., Pontoon Beach, it was reported at 6:55 a.m. Tuesday to the Madison County sheriff's office.

General Steel to auction equipment at Car plant

There will be a three-day public auction July 19, 20 and 21 of heavy steel fabricating welding and machine shop equipment at the St. Louis Car plant of General Steel Industries, 8000 Hall Street, St. Louis, which has been closed because of unprofitable operations after many years as one of the nation's leading builders of rapid transit, and commuter cars.

Edwin B. Meissner, Jr., senior vice-president of General Steel Industries, Inc., of which St. Louis Car is a division, said the auction is part of a program to liquidate the assets of the Car Division on the most favorable basis possible.

Production at St. Louis Car ended last April with the shipment of the final subway cars in an order for the New York City Transit Authority. The St. Louis Car plant has a broad range of car building and fabricating facilities used in building low alloy, high tensile steel, aluminum and stainless steel transit cars and fiber glass components. The equipment to be auctioned includes shears, press brakes, punches and copers, engine turret lathes, radial drills, milling machines, welders, woodworking and painting equipment, burning and cutting equipment, hoists and cranes, power tools, mobile cranes, fork lifts, two diesel locomotives, floor sweepers and office furniture and equipment.

The auction at the multi-million-dollar St. Louis Car facility will begin at 9:30 a.m. July 19, 20 and 21.

Railroad car building firms from a number of foreign countries and buyers from throughout the U. S. are expected to be present. There will be two industrial auctioneers: Rabin Brothers, San Francisco, and Continental Plans Corp., Portland, Ore.

End MRF coupon sales

Sunday will be the deadline for the purchase of coupon books for the 1973 season of the Mississippi River Festival. The coupon books, on sale for $20, contain $25 in undated coupons which may be exchanged for tickets for any performance during the season. Exchanges may be made locally at the YMCA or at the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville box office.

Coupon books may be purchased from any of the following residents or merchants:

Mrs. John Schroeder, Mrs. Neil Kirchoff, Mrs. Russ Chappell, Mrs. Chris Kefalas, Mrs. Leon Scroggins, Mrs. Jo Meyer, Mrs. Donald Bogue.

HOUSE BURGLARIZED
The home of Karen Smith, 2116 Adams St., was looted and ransacked in a burglary, she reported at 10 p.m. Monday. Missing were a combination radio and stereo set valued at $180 and a tape recorder valued at $125. Entry was gained by breaking a window.

MRS. KEN SCHMIDT OF NORFOLK, NEB., SAYS:

"When I started on the X-11 Plan, I weighed 165 lbs. Now I'm down to 135 lbs. I enjoy wearing clothes that I never wore before. I feel better than I did. Some of my friends pass me by and then turn around and say 'Hi, baby!' They can't believe it's the same old Margie."

George Barfields feted

Mr. and Mrs. George W. F. Barfield, 3013 Buxton Ave., observed their 25th wedding anniversary this week with an observance held in the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Horvath of Glen Carbon.

The couple was married July 10, 1948 at the First Church of the Nazarene, with the Rev. Foster officiating. Their attendants were Muriel Sykes and Mrs. Vertyan Byrd, brother and sister of Mrs. Barfield.

Barfield is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Barfield of Piedmont, Mo. His wife Mrs. Barfield is the former Arnie Sykes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Sykes of Granite City. Wheat harvest progressing

By WARREN W. BUNDY
U. of Illinois Extension Adviser

Wheat varieties in test plots on land farmed by Leonard Schaefer in Chouteau Township have been harvested.

Six soft wheat varieties in the test averaged 37.3 bushels per acre. Five hard wheat varieties averaged 33.8 bushels per acre. Yields of soft wheat varieties are Blueboy, 44.0 bushels per acre; Abe, 42.3; Blueboy II, 40.2; Arthur 71, 37.2; Arthur, 35.4; and McNair 423, 24.3.

Yields of hard wheat varieties are Centurk, 43.9 bushels per acre; Gage, 35.3; Parker, 34.6; Triumph 64, 28.6; and Pawnee, 26.4.

Test weight of both Blueboy varieties was 55.5 pounds. Test weight of others ranged from 57 to 58.5 pounds. Standard weight of a bushel of wheat is 60 pounds.

Moisture content of grain varied from 14.9 for Gage to a high of 17.4 percent for Arthur 71. Yields were adjusted to allow for moisture content.

Arthur and Arthur 71 are the two most popular soft wheat varieties grown in this area. They account for 46 percent of the total wheat acreage here.

Parker and Gage, both hard wheat varieties, represent 20 percent of the wheat acreage in this area.

The new varieties Abe and Centurk show promise for increased use here.

Madison County farmers are making normal progress with wheat harvest and soon will have the harvest completed.

Yields of from five to more than 60 bushels per acre have been reported. Several hundred acres of wheat were totally destroyed by floods in the western part of the county.

Many fields of corn and soybeans in Madison County appear in excellent condition. Some field corn is at tasseling stage. Corn averages better in condition than soybeans in this area.

Soybeans in many fields had their problems. In fields with "sick" beans, it is often difficult to attribute the problem to only one, definite cause.

The variety, seed that lacks good vigor, wet conditions, compact soil, diseases, some effect from last year's or this year's herbicides, and the vagaries of nature can all be contributing factors.

Any one of these factors alone may not be too serious, but the more of them you have, the greater the stress and the more the effect is noticeable.

Soybeans are in poor condition in many fields in the southeastern part of Madison county where much of the problem of spotty stands was caused by hard, beating rains and ponding of water in low areas of fields.

There is a substantial acreage of soybeans yet to be planted, mainly in the southeastern area of the county and along the western edge of the county where flood waters still cover some fields and portions of fields.

July 14 is about the latest date to plant soybeans here.

CHURCH HOLDS PICNIC

The Pontoon Baptist Church held its annual barbeque Sunday at the Baptist recreational grounds near Mitchell. Games were played and following the barbeque a devotional was given by Ken Carver.

Present were Mrs. Leta Kellenbarn, Mrs. Helen Burgess, the Rev. and Mrs. Gus Falter Jr. and children Gregg, Glenn and Becky, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Falter Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ken Carver and Janice, Amy and Rhonda, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Harvey and daughters Debbie and Barbara.

Miss Theresa Mikolaszuk, Mrs. Linda Biggs and daughter Michelle, Kevin Rogers, Carolyn LeGate, Mrs. Emma Dillman and daughter Becky, Mr. and Mrs. Rick Wagner and children Jason and Elaine.

Mrs. Ruby Barker, Donald and Sherri Marcum, Robert and Cookie White and son Frank White, Cathann Barker and daughter Jonne, Harold McBride and daughters Blanna and Lisa, Eddie Civar, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Flowers and children Susan, Dan and Laura Lee, Tommy, Richard, Barbara and Bobby.

Barbara Wheeler, David Nave, Carol and Holly Cooper, Darcey Jewell, DeDe Yakley, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Gantcheff and Jackie, Mike, Kathyann and Steve, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Stoyahar and son Paul, Lesa Randall and Lorie Davis, Mr. and Mrs. White and children Lori, Maria, Jimmy and Shelby and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Martin.

with much chance of profit from the crop.

But in a late planting situation, farmers really don't have much choice other than to plant late and take the risk. "Better late than never" is the bean planting slogan we are sometimes forced to accept.

Many farmers this year already have double-crop soybeans planted in ground from which wheat was harvested.

Zero-till planting of soybeans in wheat stubble land is becoming more popular among farmers each year.

One advantage of that method is the time saved by not having to prepare a seedbed. Another is it conserves moisture in the soil. One disadvantage is it depends on herbicides, which are expensive, to control weeds.

The Madison County Holstein Club will have its annual Black and White Show at 7:30 p.m. today at the Madison County Fairgrounds, Highland. All persons interested in holstein cattle are being invited.

Illinois acts against 2 Arizona land developers

Two orders to cease and desist the sale of subdivided land have been issued to two Arizona land developers by the Illinois Department of Registration and Education, according to Director Dean Barringer.

The companies have been found in violation of the Illinois Land Sales Act which requires registration of subdivided out-of-state land offered for sale to Illinois citizens.

Both companies had been ordered to stay all sales in Illinois and to show cause why an order to cease and desist should not be issued. The companies recently declared bankruptcy in the District Court of Arizona.

Apache Park Estates II, under its parent company Golden West Utilities Corp., 5045 N. 12th St., Phoenix, allegedly failed to provide audited financial statements and paid no annual renewal fees for its certificate of registration since 1970. Barringer said department notification was given in 1971 and 1972.

John Gwinn, attorney for the department, said, "Approximately 100 Illinois residents have signed purchase agreements for Apache Park Estates II property."

"Each purchaser will be notified by the department and sent a claim form to be filed with the court. The receiver in bankruptcy has made assurances that title to the property is in a trust account."

"We will continue to keep Illinois purchasers informed so their rights will be protected."

The department found Del Rio Springs, Inc., 3249 E. Indian School Rd., Phoenix, in violation for not providing a mandatory updated public property report and for submitting an unaudited financial statement on its Antelope Lakes subdivision.

Gwinn said the company is presently under federal investigation of its activities.

Barringer said that the two orders were issued as a result of increased surveillance by the department's Land Sales Division, particularly of companies delinquent in payment of fees to the state of Illinois.

U. S. accepts state data system on nursing homes

Dr. Joyce C. Lashof, acting director of the Illinois Department of Public Health, has announced that the Social Security Administration has agreed to accept the computerized system used by the state of Illinois in the inspection of skilled nursing homes. Illinois is the first state to utilize computers in regulatory programs.

The automated system, which has been in operation for nearly two years, replaces a 48-page survey report form customarily used by the Social Security Administration for Medicare inspection reports.
It is estimated that use of the

Granite City Press-Record
Thurs., July 12, 1973 Page 19

automated system has resulted in a yearly saving of more than one million dollars.

Russell Bryant, administrator of the state health department's Long-Term Care Section, said, "Use of the automated system has resulted in a saving of personnel time required to visit facilities, document deficiencies and prepare deficiency memorandums."

"The system also has made possible the storage and retrieval of data concerning previous deficiencies, ownership, staffing patterns and construction of facilities."

Department officials estimate that, using the traditional survey method, it would have taken 175 surveyors to visit and report to each facility four times a year.

Using the automated system, 48 surveyors perform this task. The reduction in clerical support has resulted in an annual saving of $100,000 and has freed the current clerical staff for other duties, Bryant said.

"Another benefit of the automated system," said Donald B. St. John, manager of the Division of Health Facilities, "is that it is now being used not only for state licensure and Medicaid inspections, but also for Medicare certification."

This allows for better utilization of personnel, a more thorough inspection and consultation and a reduction in the number of employees required to survey nursing homes."

The Social Security Administration's agreement to accept the computerized reporting procedure for Medicare services resulted from an evaluation report prepared by Arthur Young and Co.

According to St. John, the report, entitled "Illinois Automated Nursing Home System," was funded from a $13,500 grant from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to the Illinois Department of Public Health to evaluate the state's automated system for the regulation and medical review of long-term care facilities and patients.

Colors can enhance new furniture

By BARBARA HARTUNG
Copley News Service

Q. We recently purchased a Mediterranean bedroom set with king-size bed, triple dresser with double mirrors, man's wardrobe and two night stands in warm pecan. The bedspread is a heavy cotton done in a baroque pattern and is in shades of black, brown and ecru. This we are pleased with. At present the walls are white. Drapes, rug, lamps and accessories need replacing. Could you please give me suggestions for color to use? We've waited years for the new furniture and spread and are hoping for a handsome room when it's redone. — A. K. H.

A. Here's one way to go. Do your walls in ecru. Do draperies in matching ecru in a heavily textured fabric and trim with black and brown braid or plain strips or use black and brown tie backs for your draperies and ecru sheers underneath. You might use warm brown carpeting or if your floors are a nice warm wood, you might use an off-white shag area rug — one really luxurious with deep, deep pile. For lamps, you might use black wrought iron with off-white shades, natural brown wood bases or brass. Accessorize lightly like a grouping of six pen and ink drawings with wavy chestnut frames. For a truly sophisticated room, I'd keep to the brown, black and ecru and not have any other color introduced unless, of course, you must because of something you already have.

Q. I have just recently acquired a Louis XVI bed upholstered in fabric. I have a reproduction of a Louis XVI writing desk and side chair. I want to create a guest room and library look in this room with bookcases. My problem is the sliding glass door that goes out onto a patio. I do not care for traditional draperies? What could be done? — F. R.

A. You might consider Roman shades for the sliding glass door. They would be tailored and yet elegant for the room. They are an extremely adaptable style in many traditional rooms.

Q. I have a sofa and loveseat covered in a fabric with a white background and a gold design, a gold velvet chair, avocado green rug and gold with avocado design drapes. What other colors can I use? The furniture is traditional. — S. M.

A. Do you feel you must use more colors? With two different designs and gold, white and green in your room, it sounds like you probably have enough variety. However, if you need other colors, you could nicely go into yellow, beige, oatmeal, chocolate brown or a shrimp tone.

Effective city-township-county-federal action to expedite financing and construction of secondary treatment plant

Federal grants are not "manna from Heaven"; they come from taxpayers' pocketbooks.

Nevertheless, the $8,981,175 allocation for Granite City's secondary sewage treatment plant is welcome because it was fairly earned by this community and because of the important service that will be rendered — a cleaner Mississippi River and assurance of proper processing for a network of new sanitary sewer lines to be installed in Chouteau-Nameoki-Venice-Granite City Townships.

Total construction expenditure will be $11,974,900. The city will issue $4,065,000 in revenue bonds to meet its $3 million share of the secondary plant cost and the $1,065,000 needed to retire outstanding bonds that were issued to build the city's primary treatment plant.

The cost is vast but the benefits will be great.

Mayor Paul Schuler, Granite City aldermen, Quad-City township supervisors, Congressman Melvin Price, Chairman Nelson Hagauer and members of the County Board and many other present and former local, state and federal officials deserve high praise for their effective handling of the intricate and vital planning process.

Their path was beset by many obstacles, some of them unexpected, but their persistence ultimately prevailed.

Need for greater awareness of the social disease epidemic

Social disease used to be a topic not discussed openly, nor was it the subject of formal statements by public officials, such as Monday's declaration that July is "VD Awareness Month" here and elsewhere.

The problem locally is perhaps not as severe as in many communities. East St. Louis statistics, for example, show 763 cases of syphilis and 5,831 cases of gonorrhea last year.

By comparison, the 84 syphilis cases and 714 instances of gonorrhea in Granite City-Madison-Venice in 1972 may be reassuring to some. Nevertheless, with that many people, many of them young, afflicted by such potentially deadly ailments, there is cause for serious concern.

Local mayors' proclamation cites an alarming rise in U. S. venereal disease rates. They asserted, "In order to bring these diseases under control, it is vital that everyone be made aware of the symptoms, the methods of transmission and where to go for treatment if necessary."

Treatment centers include the Out-Patient Department of St. Elizabeth Hospital.

The VD Checkline telephone number, 1-800-252-8969, can be called toll-free from any telephone in Illinois; all calls are confidential, and callers are not even asked to give their names. The local number is 876-2383.

Name and address must accompany each letter but will not be revealed if anonymity is requested. Contributions should be sent to the editor, Granite City Press-Record, 1815 Delmar Ave., Granite City, Ill. 62040. All letters are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Use of italics or not in good taste will be relative to the editor.

The FORUM

TRAVEL NOT REQUIRED TO FIND RELAXATION

To the Editor:

I wrote my first letter to President Nixon last week. Not about Watergate. About the energy crisis.

The President had just issued a plea for Americans to save gasoline. And oil. And electricity. And other sources of energy.

I got to thinking about all the trips the President makes from the White House to San Clemente and Key Biscayne and Camp David, and back again. And the jet fuel this takes. And the energy gobbed by the heating and air conditioning in those four homes.

Admittedly, the President needs privacy. He needs to escape from the pressures of Washington. He needs secluded places to talk with key officials and overseas visitors.

But the point I raised in my letter to him is whether all Americans are caught up in a herky-jerky kind of living. By this I mean a restlessness, an urge to be on the move.

We must have a summer house for July and August, and a weekend home for Saturday and Sunday. Wherever we are, over there looks better.

When I was a boy, Dad would sometimes put down his garden tools and rest in the shade of our grape arbor. Or Mom would take out a few minutes to "go sit on the front porch." Looking back, I realize these were their little oases of privacy, of rest, which everyone needs.

Life would be simpler—and maybe richer for all—if we could rediscover that ability to relax, to draw on deep wellsprings of tranquility, right where we are.

In addition to saving gods and jets in presidential jets and tanks of gas in the family buggy, we might also wind up saving ourselves.

"In quietness and confidence shall be your strength."

NOBODY SOLVING TRASH BAG-VS-DOG PROBLEM

To the Editor:

I've read letters in the Forum before about the trash pickup and plastic bags.

I've read letters about dogs running loose and tearing open the plastic bags.

I've read letters about the price of plastic bags the dogs tear open, and yet nothing is ever done about it.

I believe the law in Granite City states a dog running loose is to be muzzled.

Well, what about dogs running loose that aren't muzzled? They were muzzled they couldn't tear open the plastic bags. Right?

Just what are the duties of the humane officer and just where can he be reached? He never seems to be available to take a call to report dogs running loose.

Oh, once the officer responded to a call and when he knelt on the people's door the dog was loose.

While he was knocking, the dog was standing beside him wagging his tail.

When no one answered the door, the officer got back in his truck and drove away, leaving the dog standing there. Now I call that hilarious.

I've got ahead of my story. On Sunday we had three plastic bags filled with trash to be picked up. Since our pickup day was Friday, we had a week yet until pickup.

Monday morning all three bags were torn open and trash and garbage strewn all over, with 80-degree temperature.

It wasn't a pleasant sight. After cleaning up the mess of three plastic bags—that means a total of six bags were used—I was fuming.

I came in the house and made several phone calls.

No. 1. Humane officer; no answer.

No. 2. Police department, and they told me to call the humane officer. Called again, no luck.

No. 3. Mayor's office and he said the humane officer told me there was nothing they could do.

No. 4. Bill Winter of the newspaper, he was kind enough to listen to my story and suggested I call our alderman.

No. 5. Called alderman but could not get an answer so really nothing was solved.

The plastic bags are still there; dogs are still running loose.

I think there are more in our neighborhood than in the dog pound.

Now I'm sure that burning the trash wouldn't be as much a health hazard as garbage laying on the ground.

Since I don't have a garbage disposal, I still have to use the plastic bags.

Here it is Wednesday morning. The bags are torn open and that means three more plastic bags.

I wish I had money to buy a plastic bag company.

If I had want to own a dog, that is their privilege—to feed, care and love them.

Let them run on other people's rights.

Oh, well, nothing will be done but I'm sitting down writing about it.

I guess there are more important things for everyone to be doing.

But on this hot July day, I guess I'll go and buy more plastic bags.

INDIVIDUAL CAN AVOID MANY HAZARDS OF LIFE

To the Editor:

Two letters in the June 25 Press-Record have prompted me to write. I'm referring to "To Survive in Tavern, Don't Bring Your Gun" and "Dead Youth Not Given Opportunity for Trial."

One writer seems to have all the answers for people who drink and own guns, but there are other solutions to those problems.

One never takes to the first drink you'll never have to worry about being a drunkard.

Contrary to what he said, let majority of people don't "know their limits."

And, if a person stays out of taverns, it isn't likely he'll be there.

As for the boy being killed, I regret that as much as anyone, I had my sympathy is with his family.

But the fact remains, if a person is innocent, he has no reason to run from a police officer.

VICTORIA DRIVE WOMAN

IT WAS AN historic decision that was made recently by the Congress and President Nixon.

Under terms of a compromise authorized by majorities in both houses and accepted by the President, the bombing by the U. S. Air Force will cease in Cambodia on Aug. 15.

That will end eight years of direct military involvement by the armed forces of the United States on the mainland of Asia, an involvement that began when the Marines waded ashore at Da Nang under orders of President Lyndon B. Johnson in 1965.

The terms of the compromise ban any such involvement after Aug. 15 by U. S. armed forces anywhere in Indochina unless the President, as commander-in-chief, requests and receives specific authorization for such action from the Congress.

The President sought the extension of authority for use of airpower until Aug. 15 in order to gain time to reach a settlement in Cambodia.

The Communists, knowing the administration in power in the United States at the time may have had something to do with Soviet behavior, it appears to us that the attitude of the Soviet leadership was mainly responsible for the changes.

Kremlin approaches have changed from time to time depending on who held power.

It has been difficult for the American people to know what attitude to take toward Russia. Our people have always preferred peace based on mutual respect, but for years following World War II we feared that the Russian leadership sought world domination and was bent on acquiring this domination by exporting communism to other countries including the United States.

The containment of communism by forging alliances with non-communist countries around the world was U. S. policy.

Changes of attitudes on all sides have led to the breaking down of barriers between the United States and the major communist powers, Russia and China. But there is not yet full trust among them. Antipathy between Russia and China continues, and the United States cannot yet be sure the Soviets have given up hope for world domination and are truly dedicated to a live and let live policy.

Therefore, we must continue to proceed cautiously toward the hoped-for goals of peaceful co-existence spiced with armament reductions and trade and commerce between the United States and communist powers.

Mr. Nixon's great contributions as President have been in the area of foreign policy, particularly in forging these new relationships with Russia and China.

The meeting with Brezhnev was in this spirit, and it appears to be another step on the long road toward lasting world peace.

bombing is likely to stop in six weeks, are not likely to use the time to reach a settlement. They are more likely to wait until after the bombing stops to see what military success their drive on Phnom Penh will then achieve.

BUT THE CONGRESS has had its way. Despite all the anti-war talk, this is the first time that critics of the U. S. involvement in Indochina have been able to muster a majority in both houses.

Plainly, Congress has the power to enforce its will on the President when it can make up its mind. The Constitution, which gives the Congress the power and duty to declare war and to fund any war effort, remains in effect as a check upon the broad war powers of the President as commander-in-chief of the armed forces and chief architect of foreign policy.

AND NOW, if Cambodia falls, the Congress must bear the responsibility.

Foreign travel is scenic but 'keep off the grass'

Since we plan a bit of foreign travel this year, the subject of travel and its impact on the U. S. consular service has caught our attention.

Despite the downward plunge of the dollar and resultant higher costs to Americans overseas, more U. S. residents are traveling abroad than ever before.

And there is still a net rise in the number taking up residence in foreign countries.

This has increased the volume and complexity of problems dealt with by the U. S. State Department's worldwide network of consular offices.

Miss Barbara M. Watson is administrator of the Bureau of Security and Consular Affairs (SCA), which directs visa and passport matters and has responsibility for a broad variety of special consular services for United States citizens abroad.

Despite the growing workload, she urges all Americans traveling in other countries to take full advantage of U. S. consular facilities.

More than the busiest office welcomes the American traveler in serious need of assistance or advice, she points out. In some instances, consular officers may supply invaluable and even life-preserving information.

The department has 250 such offices in 127 countries, staffed by 2,000 local and American employees.

More than eight million Americans traveled abroad last year, compared with fewer than five million in 1960.

More than a million and a half Americans now live in foreign countries, and the number has been steadily growing.

Special consular services rendered have more than doubled in the last 10 years, going from 450,000 in 1962 to 929,000 in 1972.

In another category, passport and citizenship service, the total rose from 483,888 in 1962 to 613,246 in 1972.

"With 2,600,000 passports issued last year, and an ever-increasing demand, it is obvious we have had to do more to facilitate the issuance of passports," Miss Watson emphasizes.

One important step in that direction was the department's decision to use post offices for receiving passport applications including Granite City. This has provided more than 700 new locations across the country where citizens may apply.

Miss Watson's office is also involved in a major effort to further streamline passport procedures.

"Studies are under way to create the passport of the future," she says.

With the "great movement" of U. S. citizens to foreign countries, both as travelers and as residents abroad, it is "not surprising that more and more Americans are getting into consular problems."

"In no many cases, this is due to nothing more than a lack of knowledge of local customs, mores and languages."

One of the consular services a more serious problem, she says, involves assisting Americans arrested in foreign lands.

"It comes as a shock to many Americans who feel they have to do — when arrested in a foreign country — is to say they are Americans and they will be released," she says. "It is not surprising that more and more Americans are getting into consular problems."

The Bureau's consular offices overseas can be of help to the growing numbers of Americans who live abroad and who plan to purchase property there. Laws relating to property ownership by foreigners vary substantially from country to country and are subject to frequent changes.

To be on the safe side, Miss Watson says, the potential American property buyer should be sure he acquaints himself with the legal intricacies. Otherwise, he may discover — when it's too late — that the property is "frozen" or, at worst, he may be tried under American law.

"Of course, this is not the case at all."

The consulate, in cases of arrest, can make sure those arrested "understand the nature of the charge," and can provide a list of attorneys.

It can also make sure jailed Americans are not discriminated against and are given the same legal rights available to citizens of the foreign land.

A particularly difficult problem in recent years has been the arrest and jailing abroad of many young Americans for violation of drug laws.

"This is tragic," says Miss Watson. "The rate of increase in arrests has begun to slow down, but we can't get away from the fact that 1,084 young Americans were in jail in foreign countries as of the end of March on drug charges. Three of every four are under 25 years old."

"Most of them are from middle or upper class families and have had some college education," she adds.

"The State Department has provided extensive publicity on the severe penalties often imposed abroad for the use of drugs."

"Still, many young people seem to have the impression, completely erroneous, that foreign governments are more permissive than our own in the enforcement of narcotics laws."

In some countries, the accused can be jailed for four months to a full year before a trial is even scheduled.

When convicted, the young American may be imprisoned for as long as six to eight years.

While in Mexico this year, Miss Watson visited a young American medical student serving a five-year sentence following his conviction on a marijuana charge.

She says he told her he was seeking greater liberation and freedom. "But there's a very little liberation inside a prison."

In the six years Miss Watson has headed up the Bureau, she has been involved in every aspect of its multi-faceted work. Her major concerns, which often engender "difficult human situations," involves the "loss of citizenship for people who were born abroad or have been living abroad."

They may have performed what might be deemed an expatriate act. Under the law, for example, a U. S. citizen who voluntarily acquires citizenship in a foreign country for foreign naturalization would be deemed to have lost his citizenship.

Miss Watson recalls several cases in which Americans were shocked to learn that acceptance of foreign citizenship, taking important positions in foreign governments or — if born abroad in certain circumstances — failing to meet the residence requirements could endanger their American citizenship.

All-star nine triumphs, 2-0

Three Granite City baseball players played an important part in the 2-0 triumph of the Southwestern Illinois Inter-City League all-stars over the league-leading Hawks at their Glen Crossing diamond. Paul Hawks, of the Freshman baseball squad, started on the mound, while leftfielder Bob Wickham and third-sacker Bill Rulmer of Sacred Heart were outstanding defensively and offensively.

Farm tour by 21 youngsters

Twenty-one children from West Granite have completed a tour of the Marvin Stille farm near Alhambra with Mrs. Wilma Hancock in charge. It was one of a series of farm tours being conducted this summer under the sponsorship of the Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program of the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service. The farm tours are used as educational devices for the children to permit them to learn by seeing rather than by talking about topics such as pigs and cows, a rarity for some children. Question-and-answer sessions are held after the tours. The Expanded Food and Nutrition Education Program (EFNEP) is sponsored by the University of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service and has branches in 38 counties in Illinois, including one in Madison.

EFNEP is a Nutrition program that is part of a nationwide effort to help families obtain knowledge and skills needed to improve their diets. The Nutrition program uses the neighbor-to-neighbor approach. Program assistants live in the neighborhood where they work, and remain in close contact with the people with whom they are working.

Personal contacts are made in the homes, and the assistants discuss problems and skills with the homemakers such as planning meals, buying food, preparing food, managing a food budget, and eating wisely for good health.

There are 13 program assistants in Madison County that work with 500 homemakers and 500 youth in the Quad-City area of Venice, Madison and Granite City.

Program assistants who work with the children are Leon

Howlett, Yvonne Marr and Drew Johnson of Venice, Margaret Wade, Janie Kemp and Rosalie Gruenewald of Madison Jewel Van Vleet, Wilma Hancock and Lynn Krug of Granite City, and Leona Brown and Glena Ware of Eagle Park Acres.

Grant to Upward Bound

A grant of $110,830 has been awarded to the Upward Bound program at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville by the U.S. Office of Education to continue the program through June 1974.

There are several new features in the program, which was started in 1968 in East St. Louis to assist the disadvantaged and underachievers in high schools, according to Elven Davis, director of the program.

The program has been expanded to include students from other areas in Madison and St. Clair counties.

Students having academic and social problems in their high schools are referred to the Upward Bound program by counselors. To be selected, a student must have completed the first 18 grades and be from a disadvantaged background.

Enrollment in the program ranges from 70 to 80, and six of the seniors last year were enrolled in university classes under the SIUE early admission program.

New components of the program include developmental and communications skills, training, learning contracts and

Walker faces task of evaluating legislation

Springfield — The legislative session isn't over for Gov. Dan Walker.

Buy new home or an older house?

By GENE GARY
Copley News Service

Q. We are considering the big venture of buying a house. Which do you think is better — buying an existing house or a brand new home? We like some of the older designs better than the contemporary models. — Mr. and Mrs. James F. E.

A. There are many pros and cons on this matter. It depends largely on what pleases you and what you can afford. Some experts say consider the new house first because, generally, one of the strongest practical reasons is easier financing. Compared with buying an old house, a new house often can be bought with a relatively small amount of cash, and the fact that it is new means it should require much less maintenance in the early years. But often you can find bargains in the existing house and they have the advantage of being in an established neighborhood. However, there are some key questions to ask before buying the used house. Has it been checked by a building expert to determine if it is in structurally good condition? Does the price compare favorably with the price of a comparable new house? How much money will it cost to repair, improve and, if necessary, modernize the house? Will the total investment of purchase price and improvements cause the house to be "over-improved" for the neighborhood. And, finally, do you feel that the house is in good condition and that it is the one you really like and want? In your case, I suggest you do some shopping around and make the important comparisons.

Q. I have a paneled ceiling in our living room and there are hairline cracks in the finish. The polish penetrates through the finish in these spots, leaving dry-looking spots. We are going to re-varnish. Is there any way to fill these fine cracks before varnishing? — A.R.K.

A. For filling hairline cracks in paneling, a putty stick is recommended. This comes in many different colors that should match most colors found in paneling. However, the paneling should be thoroughly cleaned. Go over it with liquid sandpaper to remove the polish and any other soils or dirt. Then apply a varnish or clear finish. The last step is using the putty stick. Rub it in to fill the cracks.

Q. We recently purchased an older home, which needs remodeling on the inside. We plan to do as much as we can ourselves, but need good advice on a floor plan to get more closet space and a better kitchen. Where do we find someone to advise us on removing walls and making other changes? — Mrs. James S.D.

A. There are several possibilities. You could have a draftsman prepare a blueprint for you, better still, I would recommend going to a reliable contractor who specializes in remodeling, one of whom advertises "partial or complete" work, meaning that you could share the work with them to reduce the cost. They also would be able to advise you on the feasibility of structural changes, such as removing or changing walls.

sign and which to veto in whole or in part. He will be risking some of his coveted grassroots popularity in the process.

Probably the biggest decision facing him is whether to approve or reject the Republican-backed bill for a half-cent statewide cut in the present four-cent state share of the Illinois sales tax.

If Walker signs the bill, he will be giving a big boost up the political ladder for a potential 1976 opponent for governor, House Speaker W. Robert Blair, of Park Forest, chief sponsor of the bill.

If Walker vetoes the Blair bill, he can be charged with reneging on promises to reduce taxes.

His own version of tax relief, to increase the exemption for the state income tax from $1,000 to $1,400 for each individual, died in the Senate.

Walker conceivably could reject the Blair bill as inadequate and make another pitch for his own plan at a special session or the October recessed session.

Right now it's anybody's guess as to what he will do.

He has a number of other sensitive measures to consider. There are bills to reinstate capital punishment, if on a restricted basis, in Illinois.

The major one, sponsored by Republican Rep. Henry Hyde of Chicago, would make the death penalty mandatory for 11 categories of crime — including the murder of policemen and prison guards and in rapes and kidnappings.

The entire issue of restoring capital punishment is a hot one. Walker will be hard put here to find a compromise which would appease both liberals and conservatives.

Then there is the matter of abortion legislation, with strong partisans on both sides. The Illinois law is designed to serve as a guideline for physicians in consideration of individual requests for abortion.

The United States Supreme Court has ruled that abortions are constitutional, but states have been granted considerable leeway in establishing ground rules.

The issue in Illinois is whether the bill passed by the legislature goes far enough or is too liberal. It would require that abortions in this state be performed either in hospitals or specially-licensed and regulated clinics.

The governor is expected to have no difficulty in deciding to sign the bill to create a State Board of Education. He is empowered to appoint the 17 members from specified geographical districts.

He may ponder the bill for a State Elections Board. It would include four members, two from each political party, with deadlines to be broken through a pull-from-the-hat device.

Most Democrats, especially those from Chicago, don't like the bill and Walker might veto it on the grounds that it resorts to gimmickry.

Walker must also decide the fate of highly-controversial no-fault auto insurance bills, legislation for funding pension systems and a big array of appropriations.

THERE COULD BE A TREE IN YOUR LIFE AT COTTONWOOD STATION

A tree and room to grow. We are talking of a totally planned community. The concept of quality housing people need at prices they can afford. But the Cottonwood Station story is best described in feelings. The pride of the families who live there. They talk about the protected environment and the underground utilities. They and their children enjoy the 30 acre rustic park for hiking, picnicking, or bird watching. There's even a well stocked lake and tennis courts. All this and good neighbors. As an example, there is Cottonwood Village with integrity-built, architect designed, 3 bedroom patio homes, for less than twenty-five thousand dollars. Cottonwood Village is at Edwardsville on Illinois 159, about 20 minutes from St. Louis. Open from noon until dark daily including Sunday. Coffee is always on the stove. A bowl of apples on the table. You can listen to a tree growing.

Farmlands once Indian battlegrounds

Farms and communities near waterways in south-central Illinois which are peaceful now were battlegrounds 1,000 years ago.

Evidence of violent combat between Indians has been reported in the ninth bulletin published by the Illinois Archeological Survey, "Late Woodland Site Archaeology in South-Central Illinois."

The University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign is headquarters for the survey, an organization which compiles information on remains of Indian cultures in Illinois.

Gregory Perino, an archeologist from the Thomas Gilcrease Institute, Tulsa, Okla., supervised excavations at four sites used for villages or camps by Late Woodland Indians.

The Late Woodland culture, dating from 1,000 to 1,200 A.D. in Madison County, Illinois, was spread in Illinois and Indiana from 700 A.D. to 1,200 A.D.

Articles on seven sites near the Illinois and Mississippi rivers and on Late Woodland culture near the Kaskaskia Arch are published in the bulletin.

Some sites in the path of highways or land development were excavated before earth moving machines destroyed them.

Perino found skulls smashed by weapons and arrowheads mixed with shovels at the Schild Site, four miles south of Eldred. The evidence and information recovered by others at a number of sites "indicated that these people, who lived in numerous villages scattered about the countryside, were almost continually at war with each other, or at least maintained an armed truce," he said.

"Late Woodland hamlets were crowded and overpopulated in this region; because they were hunters and gatherers, they needed subsistence workers in Chicago."

Black children under guardianship of the state Department of Children and Family Services will only be placed for adoption with black families, Director Jerome G. Miller has announced.

For six years, the department has permitted adoptive placements of black children with white families if it appeared to be the only way to assure the child a permanent home.

"I just don't believe there are not enough black families to adopt black children," Miller, who was appointed to head the state agency in January, said.

There are nearly 800,000 black adults in Illinois. Many will adopt if the department makes a greater effort to let the black community know that need for homes for black children.

Miller's plans include setting up a specialized unit of black adoption workers in Chicago, developing a contract with Afro-American Family and Community Services (an all-black social service agency) and stepped-up publicity through mass media and community outreach campaigns.

The decision is completing a review of children for whom adoptive plans should be made. The majority of children, both black and white, are school-age, with a small percentage being toddlers.

The decision to end the department's policy of transracial adoptive placements was not easy to make, Miller said.

"Over the years, organizations such as the Open Door Society and the Council on Adoptable Children have done yeoman work in easing the adjustment problems related to placement of minority children."

With parents.

"But unless we put greater pressure on our own department and voluntary agencies to reach out to the black community for homes for black children, we will never know whether securing a home that matches each child's racial heritage is an attainable goal."

Miller said the new policy will be binding on voluntary agencies who place wards of the Department of Children and Family Services in adoption.

He emphasized that a department priority will be to continue services to transracial families, including counseling and providing information on the heritage of racial minorities.

The new policy will not affect children already in placement or for whom adoptive plans were formulated prior to June 30.

Patent attorneys busier than ever

Take it from the patent attorneys, it just isn't true that there is nothing new under the sun.

According to the Illinois State Bar Association, 925,000 patents for new inventions have been issued by the U. S. Patent Office during the past 15 years. That amounts to fully one fourth of the 3,700,000 patents issued since the office's inception.

The ISBA says that a patent protects the inventor for a 17-year period, during which other persons are prohibited from selling or using the invention without his consent.

In return for this exclusiveness, the inventor must disclose the details of his invention to the world. Anyone may purchase a copy of a patent for 50 cents and the inventor gets $2,000, such requests every day.

The rate of inventiveness, the bar group says, is keeping patent attorneys in Illinois and other states busy filing patent applications along with blather about the need for a patent to show that the idea is unique.

Before issuing a patent, the Patent Office, a function of the Department of Commerce, must be convinced the invention is novel; has utility and is not obvious to skilled workers in that particular field.

In addition to the nearly 10 million U. S. patents, there are 9 million foreign patents whose categories must be considered and specific categories related to the field of the invention must be examined before it can be concluded that the idea hasn't already been patented.

For the attorneys and their agents who conduct this search, the ISBA said, the job gets tougher every year.

The cost of the initial search ranges from about $100 on up depending to some extent on the ease with which the proper categories can be pinpointed and examined. In addition, there is a filing fee for the patent which may run close to $100.

Ordinarily, a patent won't be issued until about two years after filing date, since it usually takes that long before government examiners can conduct their own search through the records of the Patent Office's "prior art resources" facility in Washington to be sure there are no duplications.

Much of the patent attorney's work, the ISBA said, is with the research and product development departments of corporations, large and small.

Independent inventors still account for one fifth of patent applications but they are a "vanishing breed."

Travel agent helpful

By RIV TOBIN
Copley News Service

Dear Mrs. Tobin: I am planning my first long trip outside the United States. I want to rent a car and "do" Mexico. I speak fluent Spanish and see no reason to pay a travel agent for arranging reservations. All of my friends disagree. What is your opinion? — Carla V.

Dear Carla: Well, I know that summer is just around the corner when my mail box is jammed with requests on travel tips. In the first place, you don't pay the travel agent. He receives his commission from the carrier or the hotel. Speaking fluent Spanish is certainly going to add to the pleasure of your trip south of the border but are you sure you can rent a car and get suitable accommodations in the height of the travel season? Do you know the hotel rates in all the places you plan to visit? I don't know where you live, but there is a direct air flight from your city to Mexico? What about transferring from the plane to your hotel upon arrival? Insurance? Traveler's checks? International driver's license? Heath cards? Tickets to various festivals, theaters and other special events? I strongly recommend you see your friendly neighborhood travel agent. He will make your trip less costly, pleasanter and safer for you.

THE WORLD OF MUSIC Jerry Walker has relaxed approach

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

A lovely album of soothing sounds will surely pave a wide path for many new fans for singer-composer Jerry Jeff Walker, whose latest LP for RCA records is simply entitled "Jerry Jeff Walker."

The platter is a mellow combination of downhome country rock and ballads which was recorded in Austin, Tex., by Jerry and his friends.

Jerry prefers to record with his friends to preserve the "natural harmony" of the group. To that end, he feels that nobody feels that he has to impress Jerry with his music and you have a relaxed, enjoyable session that is carried over well onto the record.

Jerry sings about love, being alone, his guitar as on "L.A. Freeway," his luck and traveling on the road. His voice is much like Kristofferson's but on the livelier side, lending credibility to his warm and personal music. Jerry Walker is a poetical man who obviously enjoys people as much as he does his music.

The collective energies of Vinagar Jo bear some heavy musical rewards for their efforts on "Rock 'n' Roll Gypsies" on Atco Records. Lead singer Elkie Brooks and singer-composer — musician Robert Palmer put out some vocally dynamic rock music. Backed by a tight group of capable musicians, Vinagar Joe is at its best on songs composed by members Pete Gage and Palmer.

Several songs on the album have survived D.J. weedouts to air time, and that says plenty for an album in itself. Best cuts include the title song, "Rock 'n' Roll Gypsies," "Charles Horse," "So Long" and "Forgive Us."

Good news for opera buffs: Columbia Records has issued under the Odyssey imprint two classic performances of Puccini's "Madame Butterfly" and Gounod's "Faust." They were among a series of Metropolitan Opera performances recorded by Columbia in the late 1940s and early 1950s (all of the library originals are being reissued by Columbia). Eleanor Steber, as "Madame Butterfly," and Richard Tucker, as the American naval lieutenant, sing the lead roles in the three-record album. "Faust" features Miss Steber, Eugene Conley as Faust, and Cesare Siepi as Mephistopheles. These are mono recordings, but the sound is excellent.

The latest in the long list of albums of themes from motion pictures is "Also Sprach Zarathustra," a two-record set by RCA-Camden. These are great arrangements of some great music. Besides the Strauss tone poem, that other-worldly music that set the mood of "2001: A Space Odyssey," the album has the love theme from "The Godfather," the theme from "Summer of '42," "Fiddler on the Roof," "Man of La Mancha," and "Cabaret" — plus some oldies like "Chim Chim Cheree" from "Mary Poppins" and the theme from "Lumelight." The sound engineering on these two records is excellent.

Joel Grey is George M. Cohan's kind of guy. He's a Broadway singer and he has that special sound that one always associates with a singer in a Broadway musical, a sort of brassy and talky way of delivering a lyric. Columbia Records picked up a live performance by Grey at the Waldorf Astoria and put it on an LP, titled "Joel Grey Live!" and complete with crowd sounds. Grey does some of the songs he did in "Cabaret" and also tosses in some Cohan songs and a medley in the Anthony Newley style (the two singers are very similar). If Broadway is your bag, Grey's got it.

RCA-Camden dips into the Miller magic with a put-out two-record set featuring a "String of Pearls" by Glenn Miller and his orchestra. Besides the title song the biggest band of the big band era swings through " Chattanooga Choo Choo," "American Patrol," "Little Brown Jug," "Serenade in Blue," "Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree," and others that once were at the top of the charts. With modern recording techniques they might still be in the top of the charts.

Party before first River Fest concert

America's most extraordinary young virtuoso, Lilei Gampel, 13, is soloist with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra at an evening of family entertainment scheduled for the opening night of the Mississippi River Festival on Saturday.

The concert, under the direction of Music Director Walter Susskind, begins at 8:30 p.m. at the festival site at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Planned for family audiences, yet drawn from among the most cherished classical repertoire, the opening night program includes works by Beethoven, Lalo, Debussy and Tchaikovsky.

The concert will begin with Beethoven's Symphony No. 8 in F major, followed by Miss Gampel's solo appearance in Lalo's Symphonie Espagnole for Violin and Orchestra.

After intermission, the orchestra will perform Debussy's Two Nocturnes, and the concert will conclude with a rousing performance of Tchaikovsky's Overture 1812 with live cannon fire.

Preceding the symphonic performance concert-goers can attend a special birthday party at the site from 5 to 8 p.m. in honor of the fifth anniversary of the Mississippi River Festival.

The party, which includes such entertainment as clowns, magicians, puppet shows and drum and bugle corps, is free to persons purchasing concert tickets for the Saint Louis Symphony Orchestra concert on Saturday.

The gala evening of family entertainment will close with an exciting 20-minute fireworks display.

Though barely 13, Lilei Gampel has already performed with the world's leading orchestras, including Amsterdam's Concertgebouw Orchestra, the Vienna Symphony, the Israel Chamber Orchestra, the New York Philharmonic and the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

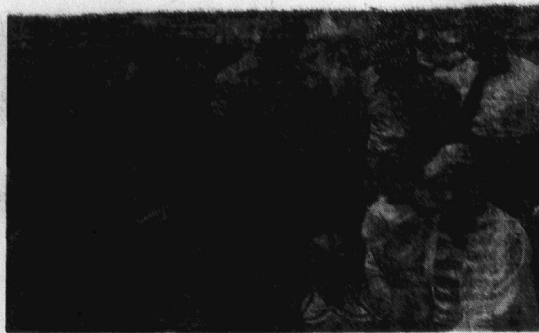

At the age of 10, she made headlines as winner of the 1970 Young Musicians Foundation Competition in Los Angeles, a competition which usually accepts no applicants under the age of 18.

Lilei began her music lessons quite by chance when, at the age of five as she waited home from school, she heard a violin teacher giving lessons and became interested in the music.

After several days of listening through the window, she knocked on the door and requested lessons.

When Lilei's parents approved their child's idea for lessons, she began studying with Mrs. Elizabeth Mills under the Suzuki method of violin instruction for very young children.

Later, she graduated from the Suzuki method to private lessons with Alice Schoenfeld, a former child prodigy herself. Tickets for the Mississippi River Festival range from $2.50 to $5.50 for reserved seats under the tent and $2 for lawn seating.

TOGETHERNESS seemed to be the theme of the third annual benefit chicken dinner festival sponsored by the Knights of Columbus and Shriners of the Almad Temple this week at St. Elizabeth Parish. Joining in the festivities here along with the children are, left to right, standing, K. of C. members Harry Hadley and Edwards Evans, faithful navigator of the Fourth Degree assembly, and Potentate Jim Carter and Armin Speichinger, president of the Shriner uniform units. The clown at lower right is Bill Branson, vice-president of the Krazy Klowns. Other clowns are Joe Murphy, left, and Bob Bade, rear.

BOAT MOTOR STOLEN

Roland McMillen, 221 Briarcliff Drive, reported at 6:40 a.m. Tuesday that an 18-h.p. motor was stolen from his boat parked in his back yard during the night.

PICKUP TRUCK STOLEN

George K. VanVleet, 3318 Princeton Dr., reported Monday that his dark blue 1973 half-ton pickup truck was stolen from the front of his home during the night.

ROCKET THREAT

On May 9, 1960, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev warned that rockets would be used to retaliate against bases used by U.S. planes on intelligence missions over the USSR.

Doc soloist at festival Sunday

The Mississippi River Festival's first Sunday night concert of popular music by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra will feature trumpeter Doc Severinsen on July 18 at 7:30 p.m.

Severinsen, who is known to millions of Americans through his nightly appearances as leader and trumpeter of the "Tonight Show" Orchestra, has become one of the Festival's most popular soloists.

The July 18 concert at SIUE will mark his third consecutive season on the River Festival roster.

Associate Conductor Leonard Slatkin has chosen an unusual program which will include the world premiere of Peter Schickele's "Skylight" and a performance of Alan Hovhaness' "And God Created Great Whales," which integrates recordings of live whale sounds with orchestral parts.

Severinsen will be featured in Werle's Trumpet Concerto No. 2 and a special selection of trumpet solos.

The concert will open with Rossini's Overture to "La Gasa Lutra."

Tickets for the Mississippi River Festival at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville range from $2.50 to $5.50 for reserved seats under the tent and $2.00 for lawn seating. Ticket information is available by calling Powell Symphony Hall at (314) 533-2500 or the SIUE Ticket Office at 692-3330.

BIG VALUES!

Active state role in moving abandoned cars

By MARY LOU MANNING
Copley News Service
Springfield—These days, there's been "much ado" about pollution; the lakes are full of trash, the air is full of foul chemicals, the music is full of harmful pitches, the environment is in general—full of junk.

And so are the highways. In the form of abandoned vehicles.

What can be done about these eyesores, this "pollution of the roads?"

Well, there is a state law that allows a law enforcement agency to remove an abandoned vehicle from the highway after a specified amount of time, according to Sgt. Charles Phelps of the state police. And the state police do so—to the tune of 6,000 vehicles last year alone.

A report of time which must elapse before a vehicle is removed depends upon the type of highway on which it is abandoned. For example, a vehicle may be removed from a toll highway, interstate or expressway after two hours' abandonment.

Ten hours must elapse before a vehicle is removed from a highway in an urban area, while vehicles located in thoroughfares other than those already mentioned may be removed after 24 hours by an authorized law enforcement agency.

There are exceptions to these guidelines: "abandoned, unattached, wrecked, burned or partially dismantled vehicles creating a traffic hazard because of its position in relationship to the highway or its physical appearance causes the impairment of travelers, immediate removal from the highway or private property adjoining to the highway may be undertaken by an authorized law enforcement agency," so reads the law.

A state policeman will either tag or mark with yellow chalk a vehicle he suspects to be abandoned. After the appropriate time has elapsed, a towing service is notified to remove the vehicle.

A report is filed out and sent to district headquarters by the state policeman reporting the abandonment. This report is then followed-up to see if the vehicle is claimed.

If it is not, the report is turned over to the criminal investigation department which, in turn, notifies the owner that if the vehicle is not picked up within a specified number of days, it will be sold.

REVIEWS Fitzgo finds a home

Copley News Service

FITZGO, THE WILD DOG OF CENTRAL PARK, by Paul Wilkes; Lippincott; 123 pages; $3.95. This is a true story and perhaps it is the greatest 123-page dog book of all time. Fitzgo is a mutt and at first he is distrustful of people — even food left by people. However, an elderly New York Czech apartment dweller gains the dog's trust and devotion, but runs afoul of "no pets" apartment rules. Joy and Paul Wilkes had watched with tender interest the dog's Central Park life, then they take Fitzgo with them to their purchased home in Brooklyn. There are scrapes with death, bits of sadness, but all ends well with Fitzgo and his many admirers. It is a book that impels the reader to read on to the end in one sitting. Dog haters won't like it but all the rest of us will.

YOUR PEOPLE ARE YOUR BUSINESS, by Melvin S. Landow; Exposition Press; 160 pages; $10. A book on how to become a millionaire, written by a former door-to-door seller of encyclopedias who now controls a chain of TV and appliance stores. Landow debunks the ruthless executive route to power. He thinks an executive should, above all, be a humanitarian who loves people. Landow also offers tips on how to plan, how to hire, how to train and how to handle problems. He also plugs newspapers as the best advertising medium. There is even some advice on how to relax and stay healthy (Landow works a 24-hour week and says that's all anyone should work).

THE COMPLETE CHIHUAHUA ENCYCLOPEDIA, by Hilary Harman; Arco Publishing Co., Inc.; 373 pages; $10. The old adage about good things coming in small packages is a true belief of Hilary Harman, an internationally known breeder and judge.

With Chihuahuas becoming increasingly popular with the condominium and apartment dwellers who want a pet, the book should do well. The author takes the reader from the history to the current status of the Chihuahuas; there are 35,000 registered each year with the American Kennel Club and they rank 15th among the most popular breeds in the United States today. The encyclopedia, helpful to any small dog owner, takes in every aspect of the little one's life from birth, through breeding, genetics, whelping, puppy care, grooming, proper feeding and training.

SKIN DIVING AND SNORKELING, by Barry Allen; J. B. Lippincott; 96 pages; $3.95 cloth, $1.50 paper. This book, from the Sports Illustrated Library, is a do-it-yourself book on an increasingly popular water sport, the most important, oft-repeated lesson of which is "Don't do it by yourself."

The author, a certified instructor in both skin and scuba (self-contained underwater breathing apparatus) diving, tells readers all they need to learn and know and do to enjoy the underwater experience. But he emphasizes that the book can only supplement the guidance of a qualified instructor and that "open-water diving is always done in groups of two or more."

THEFT FROM AUTO. A tape recorder, two microphones and a tape were stolen from the auto of Douglas Winter, Creve Coeur, Mo., while it was parked in the 1700 block of Moro Avenue during the weekend.

Blouson will be bigger

By BETH MOHR
Copley News Service

The blouson, introduced as one of the big trends for spring and summer, will be even bigger for this fall and winter.

Not only are the newest soft, blousy tops expected to widen their popularity, they also will be lengthened in design.

Blouson bodices turn gently over waistlines marking the natural line or dropping to hipbone level. In two-piece dresses, blouson tops frequently are attached to bands encircling the hipline.

Battle jackets gave the bloused look the chance to put its foot in the sportswear fashion door for the second time when the look was updated from the '40s for a return engagement a few years ago.

The traditional silhouette, gathered onto a waistband, is the basis for this year's blouson jacket. Greater fullness and longer lengths are the features which distinguish the newest creations. Most strikingly different are the jackets with back fullness increased by inverted pleats.

Dresses with blouson tops usually are of soft materials and designed with flared, gathered or pleated skirts. Many of the jackets are worn with pants and straight skirts.

Review plans to renovate temple

Proposed renovation and refurbishing of the Masonic Temple in Granite City and the importance of donations to the project were topics discussed by members of New Hope Star point members were honored with the presentation of white Eastern Star Bibles by Mrs. Donna Woodard, a past matron of Chapter 432.

Miss Christy Epperson becomes Mrs. Eric Hoff

Miss Christy Ann Epperson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Epperson, 2839 Washington Ave., and Eric William Hoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hoff, 3241 Carlson Ave., were united in marriage in an early evening ceremony on June 15 at Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

White satin bows on the pews, burning tapers in aisle candelabra and arrangements of white summer blossoms on the altar provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 7 o'clock by the Rev. David Henegan of East Alton.

Miss Marge Settlemyer played the guitar and sang "If, Let's Get Together" and "The Wedding Song."

The bride was escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her father. She selected an ivory organza and lace gown fashioned in an Empire style.

Long organza sleeves, accented with a jeweled lace cap, were set in a fitted bodice of lace etched with seed pearls and featuring a high neckline. Matching lace and pearl trim encircled the high rise waist and formed the hemline of the long skirt, made with a detachable train secured with a self fabric bow.

A stand-up shell headpiece of lace embellished with pearls held in place her cathedral-length veil of imported bridal illusion, and she held a bouquet of white roses and greenery.

The maid of honor, Miss Mary Jean Epperson, a sister of the bride, and bridesmaids, Miss Lynne Davis, a cousin of the groom and Mrs. Kevin Rich, wore identical formal-length dresses.

Their gowns were created of floral print voile in orange, purple and yellow. Designed in shirt waist style, they had long sleeves and were enhanced with purple ribbon at the waistline. Each attendant wore a purple picture hat and carried a woven basket of yellow daisies and baby breath.

The two little flower girls, Melissa DeRoussier and Mindy Simpson, both cousins of the bride, were dressed in yellow cotton frocks with white eyelet pinafores and carried white picture hats. They also held baskets of summer flowers.

Jeffrey Epperson, a nephew of the bride, served as ringbearer.

Attending the groom as best man was Ron Johnson, Gregory and Brian Hoff, brothers, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

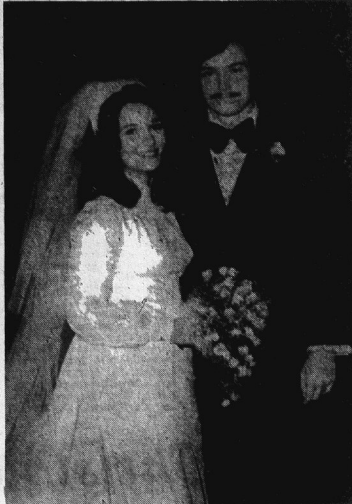

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception held at the Croatian Hall in Madison, immediately following the service.

Members of the wedding party and their families attended a rehearsal dinner at Charlie's Restaurant.

After a wedding trip to Fort Lauderdale, Fla., the couple will reside in Granite City.

The former Miss Epperson is graduate of Granite City High School and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, where she majored in special education.

Mr. Hoff was graduated from Granite City High School and attended SIUE and SIUC, majoring in commercial art. He is now employed as a commercial artist at Universal Match Co., Ferguson, Mo.

Two parties mark birthday

Angela Grupas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grupas, 1302 Washington Ave., Madison, observed her ninth birthday at two parties given by her parents.

Miss Jenny Dyjeski, an aunt of the honored guest, baked two cakes for the occasion. A Little Miss Muffet cake was served during an afternoon party to several youthful guests, including Denise Sak, Kathy and Phillip Gordon, Betty, Joe and John Mulnik, Judy and Alan Bont, Laura Mendez, Sandy Smith, Sharon and Karen Voloski and Amy and Beth Scherrills.

At an evening party, a cake shaped to resemble a violin centered the refreshment table, signifying the honoree's interest in music.

Those entertained at the Grupas home were the honoree's grandparents, Mr.

and Mrs. Rudolph Majkut; and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Dyjeski, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Doctor, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Doctor, Mr. and Mrs. James Scherrills, Mike Jakich, Leonard Dyjeski, Stanley Dyjeski and Eugene Dyjeski.

Contests spark park series

In preparation for the "All-City Championship Tournaments," being held today at Wilson Park, youngsters enrolled in the Granite City Park District's summer recreational program competed earlier in elimination contests at 10 separate playground centers to select each group's top representatives.

The seven-week activity series is open to all children residing within the Granite City Park District boundaries who may attend morning and afternoon sessions at the center nearest their own home.

Playground programs are operating Monday through Friday at Logan, Marshall, Parkview, Nameoki, Niedringhaus, Webster, McKinley, Wilson and Washington schools and at Lincoln Place Community Center.

McKendree financially sound, outlook bright

McKendree College starts a new fiscal year this month in sound financial condition and with an excellent outlook, according to Raymond F. Devery, vice-president for development and college relations.

For the second consecutive year the college is operating "in the black" and last year came within $5,000 of its annual fund goal of $152,000.

"We don't have all the money we need to operate as we would like," Devery said. "We have some funded debts we'd like to pay off and some improvements that we need to make, but we are meeting our operating expenses and making our debt payments thanks to increasing enrollment and good support from the friends and alumni of the college."

Devery predicted that next fall's enrollment will be near the 600 mark—an increase of 100 in the last two years—which will markedly improve the college's efficiency—and let it do even more with the money it has available.

McKendree, the oldest college in Illinois, is planning its sesquicentennial celebration in 1985. But in its nearly 150 years it has had some rocky periods, including one when a motion to close the school fell for want of a second in the board of trustees. As recently as 1968, it faced almost certain foreclosure.

The trustees decided that McKendree was too important to Southern Illinois and the state to let it die, and began an intensive improvement program that resulted in a new science hall, library, residence halls, dining hall and student center. These, coupled with improvements in the curriculum, the faculty and administration, led in 1970 to the full accreditation of the college by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The association took note of the "dramatic improvements" of the college since the last previous examination in 1969.

Dr. Eric N. Rackham, president of the college, telephoned the news from Chicago to the campus on the day of accreditation, and the famous McKendree Bell, oldest bell on a college campus in America, tolled for half an hour in celebration.

The improvements of McKendree College came with the support of hundreds of Lebanon residents who helped in fund campaigns and in every way possible to save the college for their town.

Much of the credit for the turn-around goes to the trustees led by the late Milburn P. Akers, former editor of the Chicago Sun-Times and grandson of the first president of the college. The trustees retained Edwin E. Voigt, retired bishop of the Methodist Church, as president and with more faith than financial resources he embarked on a building program including seven new structures.

Dr. Rackham, former executive dean of the College of Arts and Sciences at Kent State, was hired to succeed Dr. Voigt in 1968. He and academic Dean Emeritus Owen, now vice-president for academic affairs, streamlined the faculty and staff, improved salaries and ironed out many of the difficulties the college had experienced.

McKendree had been recognized by most colleges in the area, but accreditation meant that no longer would there be question whether a McKendree degree might be accepted for advanced study at any other institution; now McKendree credits are transferable to any other college or university in the nation.

The accreditation also opened up channels for gifts, including foundations who restrict giving to accredited colleges, and also improved the standing of McKendree among high school counselors who often affect students' decisions on which college they attend.

Accreditation opened the door for development and the admission of students to the college word, to build a bigger and better student body and to solicit funds to help the college meet its financial need.

The balanced budget came with Deane Amburn as director of development in 1971-72. After a year he moved on to another college and McKendree hired Ray Devery, former vice-president of Centenary College for Women in Hackettstown, N.J., to head the development office.

Devery was placed in charge of both development and admissions and was made a vice-president. While he has worked at fund raising, he has put a new emphasis on student recruitment. "McKendree has had problems that full dorms wouldn't solve," Devery said. He thinks McKendree would operate best with 700 to 800 students and has directed his admissions staff to work toward that goal.

"We have quality education to offer, and we have it to offer in a college that combines the individual attention possible only on a small campus with enlightened, modern teaching," Devery said.

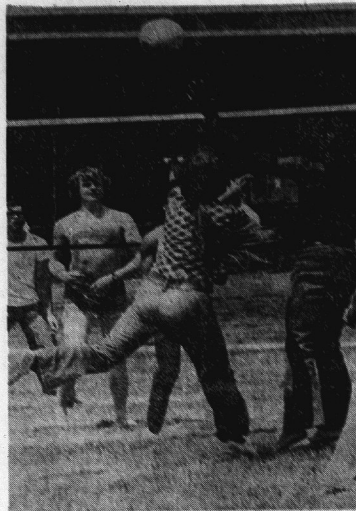

Dr. Owen has pointed out time and again that "ours is a teaching college," Devery said. "Students here will never find themselves taught by a professor doing his research."

"Our job now is to spread the word about McKendree's accreditation, about its curriculum and faculty advances, about what we have to offer."

Devery said admissions efforts will be headed by David H. Wilkey, a McKendree graduate whose appointment as director of admissions became effective July 1. The staff will be increased to tell more students in northern Illinois about McKendree. "We need more resident students," Devery said, "both to preserve the college life on campus and to keep our resident halls full."

also are sought, they supplement rather than substitute for those who live on campus.

The continued support of alumni has been emphasized, both in financial help and also in the suggesting of the names of potential McKendree College students two years from now. McKendree sets up early contacts with these students so that by the time they decide on their college future they will have a clear understanding of what McKendree has to offer.

"As long as we have a clear view of the educational needs of our day and full realization of our resources, we will continue to grow," Devery said. "New programs are on the horizon, new vocationally oriented liberal arts degree programs, new cooperative education programs with other colleges and universities, and quite possibly a new night school program with adult education overtones," he said.

"We trust that in the future the trustees will have to decide 'Should we build?' and never again 'Should we close?'"

Election by SIU trustees

The Southern Illinois University Board of Trustees will elect a new secretary and name replacements of board representatives and committee members at its Friday, July 13, meeting at 9:30 a.m. in the SIUE Carbondale Student Center.

The moves follow the resignation of Dr. Earl E. Walker of Harrisburg and the appointment of Mrs. Margaret Blackshire of Madison to replace Dr. Martin Van Borm of Carbondale, former secretary of the board.

For the Edwardsville campus, the board will consider approval of employment of outside architects and engineers as needed for special projects, because SIUE does not now have a staffed architectural and engineering offices.

It also will hear a report and recommendations on major revisions in plans for capital improvements for the Tower Lake peninsula area. This project is to be funded from the Student Welfare and Recreation Building trust fund.

Members of the board agenda will include requests for new and improved programs for 1974-75, personnel policies, the relationship of the board, proposed pay adjustments, a report by James M. Brown, chief of board staff, on a previous request for approval of the granting of a master of arts-degree in Public Communications Arts at WITUC, and an appeal by Edwin F. Pearson of the physics faculty on a denial of tenure.

SIUE plans more extension courses

Plans are being developed by the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville School of Education to offer additional extension courses, workshops and in-service programs during the fall quarter.

John E. Forbush, assistant to the dean of the School of Education, said the programs are the result of "a growing concept of taking education to the people."

"We recognize that education must fit into the framework that is feasible in the 20th century way of life," Forbush said.

"Various adaptable formats will be available, including regular night classes taught over the period of a quarter, week-end workshops focusing on specialized issues or problems, and three week-end sessions meeting on alternate weekends over a period of six weeks."

Forbush pointed out that the university's experience in variable formats has proved to be "very successful." He cited the traditional extension classes which normally meet one night a week in area cities and the newer format of the "week-end package" similar to the off-campus program offered by the university at Scott Air Force Base and elsewhere.

"The Scott Field format is very attractive," Forbush said. "Taking a week-end package to the people is popular because that's the most time they have free. It offers them an opportunity to get concentrated, in-depth experiences without having to bother with coming to the campus. We take the professor and the course to where the people are and where there is some sort of a concentrated need."

"Also there are people in need of specialized training in some specific area. We can provide this training through an in-service workshop in one weekend or over a period of time," Forbush said.

In addition to educators, people in industry are in need of continued growth and training, and programs will be available for them, Forbush stated. A detailed listing of the programs which will be offered in the fall will be released about Aug. 1, Forbush announced. Courses which definitely will be scheduled include various offerings in counselor education, psychology, special education, physical education, educational administration and elementary education.

Rights of suspended drivers explained

A new procedure informing drivers suspended in Illinois of their full rights in applying for a probationary permit has been announced by Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state.

Drivers suspended for the first time of three moving traffic violations in a 12-month period now receive full details as to how they may apply for a probationary license. Only drivers whose violations do not total more than 62 points on the established point system will be eligible.

"We are opposed to favoring traffic violators but our traffic safety program entitles these drivers to probation consideration," Howlett said. "I believe that all should be treated fairly."

"Our program stresses helping and educating drivers whenever possible and we believe that this new procedure will help our borderline drivers," he added.

Along with the official suspension notice, eligible drivers are now sent a package which will include a letter explaining the program and how to apply for a probationary permit. Also included will be a petition application and envelope to return to the secretary of state's office.

Commercial drivers will also receive an affidavit form which must be filed with the petition. If the probationary permit is approved, the driver will be notified of the date and place to attend a Driver Improvement Clinic, a requirement of probation.

Meter fees drop

Collections from Granite City parking meters declined in June below those of the record month of May. The average daily collection slipped to $138 last month from $222 the previous month.

Collections in meter fees during June were $3,04, with $719 in fines reported. The month's total, $4,123, was well below the $5,782 collected in May, the highest income from parking meters for any month since they were installed.

During the first six months of this year, meter income totaled $28,368, a record for the period. During the first half of 1972 a total of $28,502 was reported.

County building lists $1,459,951

Values totaling $1,459,951 were listed in 96 building permits issued for new construction in unincorporated areas of Madison County during June by Jack R. Clifford, county building official.

They included 52 homes, $1,331,086; nine additions, $28,725; 17 accessory buildings, $46,741; 10 repairs, $16,139; one commercial, $1,730; one radio tower, $127,380; two advertising signs, $7,750; and one miscellaneous, $350.
